WOODROW WILSON WANTS BUSINESS TO AID GOVERNMENT FOR BENEFIT OF ALL

President, Speaking Before the Chamber of Commerce of United States, Pleads for Co-operation in the Framing of Laws.

SPIRIT THAT RULES IN WAR SHOULD BE SPIRIT RULING IN PURSUITS OF PEACE

President Declares That "When Peace Is as Handsome as War There Will Be No War"—Business Men Have Themselves to Blame if Intelligent Laws Affecting Them Are Not Framed.

Washington, February 3.—Co-operation between business and the government in framing laws for the benefit of all the people was urged by President Wilson tonight in an address before several hundred representative business men here attending the annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. He declared that "we must all pool our interests" to discover the best means for handling public problems.

The president urged the creation in the United States in time of peace of the same kind of united spirit which moves nations during wars. He declared that "when peace is as handsome as war there will be no wars," and that "when men engage in the pursuits of peace in the same spirit of self-sacrifice as they engage in war, wars will disappear."

FARMERS URGED TO GROW MORE GRAIN.

The president predicted that, while there is a shortage of food in the world now, the shortage will be much greater later. He pointed out that under the guidance of the department of agriculture efforts must be made by American farmers to grow more and more grain that the world may be fed.

Speaking of the foreign trade of the United States, the president asked that business men devise some way of allowing American exporters to combine to form common selling agencies and to give long-time credits in such a way that these co-operative devices may be open to use of all. He declared that apparently the anti-trust laws prohibited such combinations now, but that he would favor a change, if a method fair to all could be found. He spoke of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce's work in "surveying the world" for the benefit of all business men.

Business men themselves are to blame if intelligent laws affecting them are not framed, the president asserted. He added that they should come out into the open and use their knowledge of conditions to help about laws to prevent business evils.

The Mexican question was mentioned by Mr. Wilson as an example of the difficulty he had in getting accurate information.

SOLIDARITY OF NATION KEENLY REALIZED.

"I would perfer that you receive me as if for the time being I were one of your own number," said the president, "because the longer I occupy the office that I now occupy the more I regret any lines of separation, the more I deplore any feeling that one set of men has one set of interests and another set of men had another set of interests; the more I feel the solidarity of the nation, the impossibility of separating the interest from another without misconceiving it, the necessity that we should all understand one another in order that we may understand ourselves. There is an illustration which I have used a great many times. I will use it again, because it is the most serviceable to my mind. We often speak of a man who cannot find his way in some jungle or some desert as having lost himself. Did you never reflect that that is the only thing he has not lost? He is there. He lost the rest of the world. He has no fixed point from which to steer. He does not know which is north, which is south, which is east, which is west, and if he did know, he is so confused that he would not know in which of those directions his goal lies. He is, therefore, following his heart he walks in a great circle from right to left and comes back to where he started, to himself again.

"To my mind it is a picture of the world. If you have lost other interests and do not see the relation of your own interests to those other interests, then you do not understand your own interests and have lost yours. Without your orientation, relationship to the points of the compass, relationship to the other people in the world, vital connections which have for the time being been severed. And so I am particularly glad to express my admiration for the kind of organization which you have drawn together.

CALLS "BOOSTING" UNHANDSOME THING.

"I have attended banquets of chambers of commerce in various parts of the country and have often impressed at each of those banquets that there was only one city in the country. And it has occurred to me that these associations were meant in order to destroy men's perspective, in order to destroy his sense of relative proportions; worst of all, if I may be permitted to say so, they were intended to boost something in particular. 'Boosting' is a very unhandsome thing. Advancing enterprise is a very handsome thing, but to exaggerate local merit in order to create disproportionate appreciation of it is not handsome.

Who Will Give a Position To This Girl Who Is Anxious To Aid Support Her Family?

How would you like to be a member of a large family and no one in the family able to secure any work in Atlanta.

This is the distressing position of pretty Miss Mamie Akridge, age 16. She is the youngest sister of four, has a sick brother-in-law, and old mother. Not one member of the family is able to get work in the city.

"I could marry, of course," said pretty Mamie, speaking so frankly that the listener readily sees there is nothing vain in the young girl, "but that wouldn't help my sisters or mother any."

Breaks Her Engagement.

Accordingly, young Miss Akridge has broken off her engagement with her fiance, and Monday morning she set out upon her errand of finding a job.

All day Monday she walked the streets of Atlanta looking for some work to do. Monday night, her feet tired and her body aching from a strenuous day, she returned to her home, 59 Newport street, unsuccessful, but with undaunted spirits.

She arose early Tuesday morning and set out again on her mission. Bakery shops, candy shops, all kinds of offices were visited by the girl.

At noon she determined to appeal to the police to help her find a position.

The first time in her life that she had ever placed her foot on Decatur street was when she finally turned her steps toward police headquarters to make a final plea to Chief of Police James L. Beavers.

Chief Beavers Helps

Chief Beavers took her into his private office. Upon learning the little girl's name, he remembered that one of her uncles had at one time been a friend to him.

"I will do all I can to help you," he promised, and at the same time proceeded a button, signalling Miss Cynthia Embree, woman probation officer, to come into his office.

Miss Embree, taking an interest in the girl's story, immediately set to work under Chief Beavers' direction seeking employment for the girl. A vigorous campaign has been waged in Miss Akridge's behalf since Tuesday afternoon by both Miss Embree and Chief Beavers. Miss Embree has taken as much interest in fulfilling the little girl's desire for work as the girl herself.

Gen. Villa Has Seized Presidency of Mexico

He Issues Proclamation Stating He Is in Charge of Republic and Names Three Ministers to Conduct Civil Government.

El Paso, Texas, February 3.—Francisco Villa has proclaimed himself in charge of the presidency of Mexico. This was announced in a telegram from General Villa received tonight by his agents here.

Villa appointed three ministers to take charge of the civil government.

Villa gave as his reason for assuming the office that his forces had been separated from the convention government, headed by Roque Gonzalez Garza as provisional president. Garza left with the Zapata forces when they departed south from Mexico City at its occupation recently by Obregon's Carranza troops. Villa telegraphed from Aguas Calientes today the following:

"On account of communications having been cut off between the convention government and the division under my command and as service cannot be interrupted on the extensive zone which I control, I have been myself compelled to assume the political authority, creating three political and administrative departments. The foreign affairs and justice department in charge of Attorney M. Diaz Lombardo; state and communications, General Luis de la Garza Cardenas; treasury and industry, Attorney Francisco Escudero."

FAIR WEATHER TODAY, SAYS THE FORECASTER

A resplendent moon beamed upon Atlanta last night, in prediction of a fair Thursday. Stars twinkled, too, as though to say that the sun would shine and that today would be as spring-like as a Dixie day in February could be expected.

The backbone of this spasmodic cold wave has been broken for the time being. This is the assertion of weather prophets, goosebone and official, and, for a period of two or three days, Atlanta will enjoy balmy temperature and an abundance of sunshine.

It is said, however, that a storm is forming over the gulf states, and that it is proceeding northeastward with rapidity. In event all this be true, it should—per schedule—strike this territory day after tomorrow. In that event, Atlanta will indulge in another attack of chills and icicles.

Fashion's Little Bird Is Whispering

That little bird whose twitter of the first notes of Spring fashions is such sweet music to every woman is beginning to raise its voice.

Designers are busy, and the colorists are ready to show their handiwork. The first shoots of the Easter blooms are in sight.

The stores are reporting the arrival of new goods. More are coming each day.

They are growing more interesting and their advertising reflects new life and color.

DR. BROUGHTON QUITS PASTORATE IN LONDON

Ill Health Forces Former Atlantan to Quit Duties at Christ Church.

Rev. Len G. Broughton, former pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle of Atlanta, has just resigned his pastorate of Christ church, London, England, according to information received by The Constitution last night.

Ill health, it is stated, has forced his retirement from his duties with the London church. Relatives in Atlanta state that they have received no information concerning his action.

Dr. Broughton has for some time been considering giving up his pastorate and returning to America. He had been offered two churches in this country—one in Knoxville and one in New York—at handsome salaries. Some time ago he was urged by the authorities of the Baptist Tabernacle to resume his old pastorate here. He declined.

Dr. Broughton was the founder of the Tabernacle and for many years was a leader in church circles in this city, and was noted for the active interest he took in civic and political matters, his attacks on city officials creating many sensations.

The strain of planning and erecting the new Tabernacle and of conducting its many varied church enterprises affected his health and caused him to accept the London call, where he was promised able assistants to lighten the work.

Recently his work has been very much increased by the assistance that he has given the thousands of Belgian refugees now in England and his health has suffered again.

It is not known in Atlanta what he will do in the immediate future.

DEADLY DUEL FOLLOWS LECTURE ON CHURCH

Lecturer Black and One Assailant Dead—Another Assailant Mortally Wounded.

Marshall, Texas, February 3.—William Black, traveling lecturer, and John Rogers, a local contractor, are dead, and John Copeland, cashier of a bank here, is not expected to live as the result of a shooting affray here tonight in Black's room at a hotel.

Black, who claimed to be an ex-priest of the Roman Catholic church, yesterday delivered a lecture here attacking that church.

Black, his daughter and F. S. Hall, his companion, were in the former's room tonight when Rogers, Copeland and another local man visited them. The shooting followed. Hall was held tonight in connection with the affair. The police have not yet found out who shot first.

George Ryan, of Marshall, who accompanied Rogers and Copeland to Black's room, also was arrested.

It is said that the local men visited Black in an effort to have him refrain from delivering another lecture tonight.

Black registered at the hotel as a resident of Bellaire, Ohio. Hall gave his residence as St. Paul, Minn.

The young woman who was in the room when Rogers and his companions entered, gave her name as Miss Sadie Black and age 18. She is said to be an adopted daughter of the lecturer.

Formal charges of murder were filed late tonight against Hall and Ryan.

ATLANTA WOMEN MEET SATURDAY TO AID SCHOOLS

Presidents of Parent-Teacher Clubs, School Principals, and Many Others Urged to Attend.

20,000 PARENTS WILL AID IN BIG MOVEMENT

Permanent Organization Will Soon Be Effected in Order to Push Fight for School System.

Through the lips of Atlanta's women the gospel of truth about the city's schools will be spread.

This much was made apparent in Wednesday's developments in the "Million Dollars for Better Schools" campaign launched by Atlanta's most aggressive women, and prospects loomed bright indeed for mustering 20,000 mothers in the cause of better schools and more schools.

Mrs. R. M. Walker, one of the leaders in the movement which has culminated in the launching of the campaign, announced Wednesday morning that a big meeting in the furtherance of the campaign will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the assembly room of the Carnegie library.

Notices of Meeting.

All day Wednesday many of the ladies who were in the delegation which first went before Mayor Woodward and members of council to plead for more schools were busy sending out notices of the meeting. Mrs. Walker told The Constitution last night that every president of every Parent-Teacher club in the city had been asked to attend the meeting.

In addition, letters were mailed to every principal and assistant principal connected with the public school system inviting them to be present at the meeting.

Mrs. Walker declared that the meeting would be the nucleus of the permanent organization which will be formed within the next ten or fifteen days. She declared that she was optimistic, and said that from the warm responses which have poured in from mothers who have been presenting all sections of the city she expected that more than 20,000 parents would be enrolled. They will take an active part in bringing to the attention of the proper authorities the deplorable neglect from which the public schools have suffered during the past five years.

"Personally I have received many warm letters of support from mothers who are anxious to join in the campaign for better schools," Mrs. Walker said, "and judging from the interviews which have come to me unsought, I have every reason to believe that we will have every mother and father in the city interested in the work we are going to try and accomplish."

Meeting Is Important.

Saturday's meeting will be second in importance only to the meeting which was held last Monday, when a delegation of representative women stormed city hall and told members of council the needs of the city. A finance committee of council just what they thought of the school conditions to which the children of Atlanta have been subjected.

Monday's meeting created a stir among members of council, particularly among those members of council who were present when the delegation made a demand for a money appropriation in the June sheet for new schools.

"I have known all along that the schools were in bad shape," said Councilman Edwin Jennings, "but I did not know that the situation was as bad as pictured by these ladies. Since hearing from them, I have made some inquiries among people who know the situation thoroughly, and I have been told that conditions are really worse than these ladies characterized them."

Councilman Farlinger, chairman of the finance committee, and last year a member of the school committee, said that he made a survey of the schools. Alderman Jennings, while he was on the school committee and knew conditions in many sections of the city were bad.

"It is just such a movement as these ladies have started that will result in improving the schools," he said. "Such a presentation of facts, and such a demand backed up by Atlanta's best women, cannot but have the desired effect."

Saturday's meeting at the Carnegie library will be the public meeting enlisting clubs and teachers in the movement.

Ask Aid of Teachers.

Mrs. Walker says that it has been decided that the best method of getting behind the facts in the school situation is to ask the teachers. The principals of each school and their assistants will be first asked to give the movement their support, and they will be then urged to make a report to a committee, pointing out clearly the needs of the schools they represent.

Presidents of Parent-Teacher clubs will be urged to muster the full force of the Boys' club and Girls' Betterhood clubs in the fight.

Within two weeks after Saturday's meeting there will be a mass meeting for the purpose of perfecting organization.

From time to time there will be other important meetings to work out the details of the campaign.

ORDER OF CONTRABAND URGED AGAINST COTTON

London, February 3.—Replying today in the house of commons to Sir John D. Rees, unionist member for Notts, who urged that cotton be declared contraband of war, Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under-secretary of war, said the requirements of Great Britain have been safeguarded so far as the war office could see. The authorities, according to Mr. Tennant, believed that Germany had a sufficient supply of cotton for her war requirements, and that, therefore, it was not necessary to make the staple contraband from the belligerent point of view.

Mr. Tennant added that other interests were involved which it would not be desirable to touch at present.

WINS DIPLOMATIC POST

JOHN T. BOIFEUILLET,
The popular clerk of the Georgia house of representatives.

DIPLOMATIC POST FOR BOIFEUILLET

Well-Known Georgian to Be Sent to London—Felder in Washington Conferring About Federal Berth.

(By John Corrigan, Jr.)

Washington, February 3.—(Special.) John T. Boifeuillet, of Macon, formerly clerk of the senate foreign relations committee during the life of Senator Bacon, has been selected by the state department for a diplomatic post which will require him to pass the next few months in London.

Mr. Boifeuillet was indorsed by both the Georgia senators and by other influential Georgians who stand close to the administration. His nomination will be sent to the senate within a few days. It is understood that Mr. Boifeuillet would not accept the designation unless the work could be concluded in time to permit him to return to Georgia this summer to resume his work as clerk of the Georgia house of representatives.

While in London he will report directly to the ambassador, Walter H. Page.

FELDER CONFERRING ABOUT FEDERAL BERTH.

Thomas S. Felder, of Macon, who was a candidate for the senate against Senator Hardwick, arrived in Washington this morning for a conference over a federal berth, which Senator Smith and Hardwick are seeking to land for him.

An invitation was sent to him to visit Washington following the apparently authentic announcement that William J. Harris, now director of the census, had been chosen for membership on the new federal trade commission. This was the position to fill which the Georgia senators were urging Mr. Felder.

It came as a surprise as much to Mr. Harris as any one else that he would be asked to relinquish his present position, in which he has made an enviable record for efficiency, and help to inaugurate the important work to perform which the new commission was created.

Asked what position he had in mind, Mr. Felder replied with dignity: "You are not a candidate for any position. I am only here visiting Senator Smith upon his invitation."

"Will you be a candidate for a place on the trade commission?"

"I have not aspired to any federal office, although I understand my name was recommended to the president in this connection. I am confining my attention to the practice of law."

"Would you take a place in Washington?" Mr. Felder was next asked.

"I would want something in the line of my profession, and preferably in Georgia," he replied.

There is no federal position of the kind now open in Georgia. If a new judgship is created in the southern district, it will undoubtedly go to a south Georgia man.

FACTORY CENSUS OF GEORGIA.

William J. Harris, director of the census, announced today that the work of taking the census of manufacturing establishments in Georgia would begin in a few days. Walter S. Coleman will have charge of the work. His headquarters will be in Atlanta, and he will direct from there the thirty field agents. The work will probably take from three to five months to complete.

3 Leopards Fight With Seven Lions; 1 Leopard Killed

Battle Royal Between Circus Animals at Augusta. All the Animals Were Wounded.

Augusta, Ga., February 3—(Special.) "Kruger," a leopard valued at $200, the property of Smith Brothers' circus shows, was killed in a fight between seven lions and three leopards in the arena at the winter quarters of the shows at Peacock and Washington streets this evening.

The seven lions had been turned into the arena while attendants were at work cleaning the cages. For unknown reasons one of the lioness jumped against the leopards' cage and in some unaccountable manner the cage door was thrown open, the three leopards leaping to the ground.

Before the attendants could interfere the fight was on, the leopards immediately attacking the lions. All the show help was summoned and the animals were finally separated, but not before "Kruger" had been killed. The other animals all show wounds and the attendants received scratches in the work of separating the beasts.

GERMANS SENT TO DEATH IN A DESPERATE EFFORT TO ADVANCE ON WARSAW

BOLTERS PILORIED AS PARTY TRAITORS AND G. O. P. HELPERS

Senator Stone Scathingly Denounces in Open Senate the Seven Democrats Who Knifed Measure to Buy Ships.

ADMINISTRATION WORKS TO SAVE THE MEASURE

Bolting Democrats Have So Far Refused to Yield to Concessions, But Administration Leaders Haven't Lost Hope—Hoke Smith Explains Position.

Washington, February 3.—Plans of administration democrats to drag the government ship purchase bill out of danger in the senate had not been completed tonight, but champions of the measure had not abandoned hope that a way would be found tomorrow to recommit the bill with definite instructions for its amendment.

Republican democrats flatly refused to yield to concessions agreed upon by the majority in secret caucus Tuesday night, and administration leaders found they could not muster enough votes to defeat the coalition of republicans and insurgent democrats who insist on sending the bill back to committee without instructions. That would mean its death for the session.

Instead of pressing their plan to recommit with instructions, therefore, the party leaders contented themselves with castigating in the open senate the seven democrats who overturned the shipping bill program last Monday. Senator Stone, selected for this undertaking, held the floor several hours, bitterly denouncing the seven insurgents as the "brain and moral force" who had endeavored to unhorse their party.

Senator Stone particularly attacked Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, whom he described as the leader in the revolt, and Senator Camden, of Kentucky. He charged that Senator Clarke had violated a caucus pledge. That the Arkansas senator denied, explaining he had warned his colleagues that he would not be bound to any action which would deprive him of his right to vote against the bill.

Absent Democrats Wanted.

While Senator Stone was speaking Senators Kern, Simmons, Fletcher, Martin and others were at work to forestall a vote until absent democrats could return to Washington, or assurance could be secured that enough progressive republican support could be counted on to insure a majority.

Tonight the democrats are counting on Senators Norris and La Follette to vote with them, but had ceased to hope for the support of Senator Thornton. Senators Overman and Smith, of South Carolina, absent democrats, are expected back tomorrow. With these votes, leaders hope the bill may be recommitted with instructions for its return within 48 hours with amendments limiting to one year the term for which the government might lease ships to private corporations, and prohibiting purchase of ships which might menace neutrality.

Republican senators tonight were hopeful that Senator Penrose would be able to reach Washington tomorrow, adding one more to their forces. His presence, they declared, would give them enough votes to recommit the bill without instructions. Should the effort to amend the bill and return it within 48 hours succeed, however, republican leaders declare their attack on the measure would be kept up until either is withdrawn or its passage blocked by the death of the session March 4.

"We are through caucusing," Senator Kern, the majority leader, declared tonight, "and expect to make progress tomorrow. The shipping bill is not dead by any means."

Stone Denounces Bolters.

In opening the fight on his democratic colleagues, Senator Stone charged them with open hostility to their party. He also made a vigorous defense of the administration, asserting he would rather follow President Wilson's leadership than that of Henry Cabot Lodge, Theodore E. Burton, William Edgar Borah, Jacob Gallinger or any recreant alleged democrat who goes about with a dagger in his sleeve."

Referring to Senator Camden's "secret conferences with opponents of the shipping bill," the speaker said there "had been doubting Thomases who whispered that if the issue were sharply drawn between the vested interests and the masses of the people, the senator would be most active." Senator Camden replied briefly, saying he was willing to leave his legislative sluggishness to his friends and neighbors to determine, but that when it came to "denouncing secrecy, it comes with ill grace from the senator from Missouri, who is known the world over as 'Gum Shoe Bill.'"

Senator Stone, speaking of the seven democrats who voted with the republicans, asked what would be thought of soldiers who turned against their fellows on the eve of battle.

Senators O'Gorman and Vardaman demanded that Senator Stone be called to order for having impugned the motives of senators.

Senator Stone said he apologized, and proceeded

Conferred With Enemy.

"I think I am within my rights."

GERMANS SENT TO DEATH IN A DESPERATE EFFORT TO ADVANCE ON WARSAW

Attack After Attack Is Being Launched in Force Against the Almost Impregnable Positions Held by the Russians.

RUSSIANS CONTINUING DRIVE AT EAST PRUSSIA AND ALSO AT HUNGARY

In Hope of Checking Invasion, the German Generals Are Sacrificing Their Men on the Warsaw Front, But Russians Refuse to Be Diverted—Comparative Quiet on West Front—British Defeat the Turks at Suez Canal.

London, February 3.—A wireless dispatch from Berlin says The Berliner Tageblatt reports from Constantinople that Greece is preparing for mobilization and continuing the fortification of her frontiers.

London, February 3.—With comparative quiet prevailing on the western front, the fighting in the east, which is more strenuous and widespread, monopolizes attention.

While the Russians are on the offensive in East Prussia, in northwestern Poland and the passes of the Carpathians, the Germans continue their attacks on the Russian lines along the Bzura and Rawka streams. These streams reached the Rawka line about the middle of December and since that time have made at least half a dozen attacks in force against the Russian trenches, each time at undoubted heavy cost.

Nothing daunted, however, they have been repeating the attacks during the past week, and while they have made a slight advance, it has been accomplished only after further great losses, according to Petrograd reports. Now it is believed the Germans are preparing for still another attack, for only by compelling the Russians to strengthen their lines protecting Warsaw can they hope to divert Russian attacks from East Prussia and Hungary.

IMPOSSIBLE TASK FOR GERMANS.

Military men here believe the Germans are attempting something virtually impossible in their efforts to force their way through Warsaw. The Rawka and Bzura lines, which they have been attacking for six weeks, are exceedingly strong, for on the right banks of the rivers, which the Russians for the most part hold, the ground is considerably higher than on the left banks, so that the Russian infantry and artillery have a decided advantage.

Should the Germans break through this barrier there is another line of entrenchments half way between the Bzura and Warsaw with Blonie as the center, which would have to be forced before the Polish capital fell.

In the Carpathians the Austrians and Germans are offering vigorous resistance to the Russians and a decision has not yet been reached in the battle which has been in progress there for some days.

The statement in the Russian official report that there has been fighting southeast of Uzok pass, in the interior of Dukla pass, and southeast of Beskid pass, indicates the extent of the struggle.

AUSTRIANS REELING UNDER RUSSIAN BLOWS.

London, February 4.—(2:15 a. m.)—Austrian efforts in the Carpathians, says a Petrograd dispatch to The Mail, are meeting with no more success than Austria's earlier attempts. "The troops of General Von Boehm Ermoli," continues the dispatch, "are neither numerous nor provided with sufficient suitable artillery for such a difficult task in the depth of winter. The fighting has ranged over eighty miles of front, and the Austrians have been repulsed at almost every point. Their main attack in the region of Uzok pass and Beskid met with a damaging repulse.

"About the middle of last week the Russians retired in the face of heavy

Austrian attacks along a certain line, but only to take up better positions and draw the Austrians away from the point of a railway. This maneuver enabled the Russians to strike a staggering blow, under which the Austrians are reeling.

"The Russians have crossed the crest of the Carpathians, and are again on the Hungarian slope."

RUSSIANS GAIN ALL ALONG LINE.

Petrograd, February 3.—Successes for the Russian arms in the region of Warsaw and in the Carpathians are recounted in an official Russian statement issued here today. "Confirmation is given also to the report that German troops have been sent to the Carpathians to assist their Austrian allies. The text of the communication follows:

"The engagements in the region of Miawa have continued favorable to our troops. On the left bank of the Vistula the battle on the roads from Bolimow proceeded on February 1 with considerable intensity. A large number of heavy and light batteries participated energetically in the engagement.

"The German attack on the morning of the 2d north of Borjimow was repulsed with great losses for the enemy. A violent combat was begun south of the village of Gouniine, where we recaptured advanced trenches which we lost January 31. The possession of a small farm still is undecided.

"South of the Pilica, near Dounalea, the enemy increased its intensity of his bombardment, continuing night and day, but attempts of the enemy's troops to make progress are without success.

"In the Carpathians the conflict continued January 31 and February 1. Our forces are advanced, fighting, along the broad front at Dukla pass as far as the Lupkow pass, having crossed the principal ridge of the mountain range in the region of Jasliska and Mezo Laborcz, where we capture six guns, two cannon, two mortars, a number of rapid fires and numerous prisoners. An offensive movement undertaken by the enemy southeast of Ussok pass was repulsed with enormous losses.

"News relative to the transportation of German troops to the Carpathian front finds confirmation in the fact that on February 2 southeast of Beskid pass we destroyed a battalion of the 124th German regiment, a remnant of which, totally battalion and company commanders and twenty soldiers, were made prisoners."

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS.

Paris, February 3.—The following official communication was issued here tonight:

"There is nothing of particular importance to report except that in Champagne three German attacks were all repulsed to the west of Perthes, north of Mesnil-Les-Hurlus and to the north of Massiges.

"In the Argonne a fresh attack at Bagatelle was repulsed by our troops during the night of February 2-3.

"The report given out in the afternoon follows:

"In the country north of the Lys there is nothing to report.

"Between the Lys and the Oise, in the sector of Nouvette, to the west of Lens, French batteries put an end to a spirited fusillade from the enemy.

"The Germans endeavored to float down the River Aisne some blazing rafts, starting them from a point above Aveluy, which is north of Albert. We were successful, however, in stopping these floats before they exploded.

"Our artillery has continued to secure excellent results in the valley of the Aisne. We have made slight progress and have taken prisoners and have repulsed a counter attack to the west of hill No. 200, near Perthes.

"In the region of Ornand German attack took place yesterday, near Bagatelle, at about 6 o'clock in the evening. This also was repulsed, as has been the attack previously reported and which took place at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

FRENCH REPULSED DECLARE GERMANS.

Berlin, February 3.—(By Wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—German army headquarters today gave out a report on the progress of the fighting, which reads as follows:

"The attacks made by the French on the German positions near Perthes have been repulsed. In the remainder of the western battle front there was yesterday nothing more than artillery exchanges.

"There have been no new developments along the Great Prussian frontier.

"In Poland, north of the Vistula, cavalry onslaughts by the Russians have been repulsed, while south of the Vistula German attacks at a point east of Bolimow ended with the occupation of the village of Ilusin (to the northeast). Fighting for possession of Wolbarz-Rawiczka has been going on since February 1. In these engagements we have taken over 4,000 prisoners and captured six machine guns."

"Russian attacks at night against the German positions near the Bzura river have been repulsed."

TURKS DRIVEN BY BRITISH GUNBOATS.

Berlin, February 3.—(By Wireless to London.)—Fighting between the English and Turks continues at Kurna. A dispatch from Bagdad describes a night attack by the Turks. Two English battalions, on opposite sides of the town, the dispatch says, became confused and fired on each other for several hours. The Turks were driven back at daybreak by fire from two British gunboats.

An Indian expeditionary force is operating at the head of the Persian gulf. It was announced in December that Turkish forces at Kurna had surrendered and that the town was occupied by the British, who thus gained control of the country from the junction of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers, near which Kurna is situated to the Persian gulf.

BRITISH BEAT TURKS AT THE SUEZ CANAL.

Cairo, February 3.—(Via London.)—The following official communication was issued here today:

"During Tuesday night the enemy attempted to cross the Suez canal near Tomsahme (35 miles north of Suez). They were permitted to bring bridging material to the bank of the canal unmolested, but directly they started bridging operations our troops attacked and the enemy fled in disorder, leaving all the material in our hands. Several of the enemy were drowned.

"The enemy also attacked on the El Kantara front (40 miles south of Port Said) at daylight today. They were easily repulsed, losing 16 killed or wounded and 40 deserters. Our casualties were three men wounded."

GERMAN CRUISER SUNK BY BRITISH.

Buenos Aires, February 3.—The Buenos Aires newspapers announce that a German auxiliary cruiser, formerly of the Woermann line, was sunk January 7 off the Patagonian coast by the British cruiser Australia. The crew was taken to the Falkland islands.

REBEL BOERS YIELD TO BRITISH FORCES

Col. Kemp and Entire Commando Have Surrendered. Maritz Alone at Large.

Capetown, February 3.—(Via London, February 4, 1:45 a. m.)—It is officially announced that Lieutenant Colonel Kemp and his commando of Boer rebels have surrendered to the British forces.

Lieutenant Colonel Kemp was a Boer leader in South Africa who followed Lieutenant Colonel S. G. Maritz, General Christian De Wet and General Christian P. Beyers in revolting against British rule shortly after the European war started.

The last previous account of Kemp was contained in a Pretoria dispatch January 24, which said that 1,200 rebels under Maritz and Kemp had attacked Upington Bechuanaland, but were repulsed, leaving behind 12 men dead and 23 wounded and 46 prisoners.

With Kemp captured, Maritz is the only one of four original revolutionary leaders still at large. Early in January General De Wet was captured at Waterburg, and on December 9 General Beyers was shot from his horse while crossing a stream and was drowned.

GERMAN WARSHIP SUNK BY RUSSIAN SUBMARINE

Paris, February 3.—An official statement from Petrograd, as transmitted by the Havas agency, says that a German torpedo boat destroyer was sunk by a Russian submarine in the Baltic on January 29. The submarine attack was made off the Danish island of Moon.

Two or three German warships in the Baltic were disabled at the hands of the Russians within a week. The German protected cruiser Gazelle was torpedoed near the island of Ruegen, and taken to Sassnitz, badly damaged. A London dispatch last night said a German gunboat had been sunk in the Baltic.

FRANCE IS SATISFIED WITH POPE'S PRAYER

Rome, February 3.—The Vatican has received a dispatch from Paris saying French authorities were satisfied with the explanation of the text of Pope Benedict's prayer for peace. The incident is now considered as closed.

Paris police Sunday seized copies of a peace prayer by the pope, designed to be read in all churches on Sunday, February 7. It was explained the government feared some expressions might be misunderstood. Monsignor Amette interpreted the text to the authorities, whereupon the embargo on the prayer was promptly withdrawn.

19-YEAR-OLD RUSSIAN GIRL IN 19 BATTLES

Moscow, February 3.—(Via Petrograd and London.)—Among the wounded who have arrived in Moscow from the front is Olga Krasilnikoff, a girl of 19 years. After taking part in nineteen battles in Poland she was wounded in the foot.

The girl enlisted under a man's name and this deception has just been discovered. The cross of St. George, fourth degree, has been awarded to her.

SWISS SOLDIERS SHOOT AT GERMAN AEROPLANE

Basel, Switzerland, February 3.—(Via Paris.)—Advices received here declare a German aeroplane flew over Bonfol, Switzerland, twice today. The aeroplane was fired on by Swiss infantrymen, but was not hit. Bonfol is 15 miles south of Altkirch, Alsace.

RUSSIAN PIRATE ORDER DISCUSSED BY BRITONS

London, February 3.—The announcement that Russia would treat as pirates men who sailed unfortified towns has been received with great interest in England. A prominent official, however, said today that Russia's action probably would not be followed here. He pointed out that aviators act under orders from military authorities and it would be difficult for a court to fix upon a certain individual responsibility for the killing by a bomb from a flying machine.

The official opinion in England is that a court would discharge any captured airmen who came to trial under

KAISER SAYS "KULTUR" MEANS DEEP CONSCIENCE

Declares Conscience and Morale of Germans Will Open the World for Them.

Munich, Germany, February 3.—(Via London.)—The Neueste Nachrichten has published an interview with Dr. Ludwig Ganghofer, German author, giving a further account of the writer's visit to Emperor William at imperial field headquarters. Dr. Ganghofer says:

"I heard and saw an example of the emperor's quiet patience with slanderous statements that should be intuitive for us all. Remarks of such a nature embitter him, but even in his greatest excitement he never loses the mastery of his tongue. I heard him say in such a case: 'That is strong, but it is silly also. I am fortunate that truth always is wiser in the long run and that it has longer legs.'

"The knightly conduct of individual opponents in the field gladdens Emperor William," continued Dr. Ganghofer, "and rarely have I heard any man speak so justly and appreciatively of the good qualities, the courage and the accomplishments of the nations enemies. Even against England I heard from the emperor no unmeasured word spoken in anger. Every verdict he pronounces, severe as it sometimes is, is always within the bounds of supreme reserve. Nevertheless, there is a slight, but hardly noticeable, vibration in his majesty's voice when the subject is our Germanic cousins across the channel.

"In a conversation with the representative of a neutral state the emperor once said: 'You are a sportsman. When in a horse race the weaker animals gradually drop out and only the two strongest are left; have you ever seen the jockey of the horse which threatens to fall behind strike with his whip at the jockey of the more ambitious and stronger animal?'

"The man questioned shook his head. The emperor continued: 'Why does England strike at us? Why does she not rather strike at her own weakening horse?'

"Yet other words of the emperor must be remembered." The Neueste Nachrichten quotes Dr. Ganghofer as saying, "on one occasion he made this remark, 'Many people who judge us Germans solely by outward polish and term us barbarians seem not to know that there is a great difference between civilization and 'kultur.' England certainly is a highly civilized nation. One notices this always in the drawing room, but to have 'kultur' means to possess deep conscience and high morale. My Germans have conscience and morale. When they say in other lands that it was my intention to found a world's empire, that is the funniest nonsense ever said about me. But in the morale, industry and conscience of the German people is to be found a conquering power that will open the world for them."

PORTUGUESE COLONY INVADED BY GERMANS

Berlin, February 3.—(By Wireless to London.)—A dispatch from Lisbon says:

"Reinforcements have been sent to Angola as the Germans now occupy the greater part of that colony."

Announcement was made in January that German forces had invaded Portuguese Angola on the western coast of Africa, although there had been no declaration of war between the two countries. Portuguese casualties in Angola then were estimated at about 800 killed, wounded and prisoners. The Germans were said to have lost about 200. It was said that 4,000 fresh Portuguese troops were ready to embark for Africa.

ROCKEFELLER'S MAN DEFENDS J. D. FUND

Secretary Greene Says Foundation Could Do Wrong, But It Won't — Witness Worried by Questions of Probers.

New York, February 3.—Jerome D. Greene, secretary of the Rockefeller Foundation and formerly a member of the personal staff of John D. Rockefeller, explained today before the federal commission on industrial relations the working of the foundation and his personal activities, and defended the foundation's charter.

Mr. Greene admitted that the charter was broad in scope and that under it there was nothing to prevent the foundation from engaging in propaganda against trade unions or conducting a campaign against compensation for workmen. But, he asserted, there was not the remotest chance that such things would ever be done.

As for conditions in Colorado, he saw no reason why the Rockefeller Foundation should interest itself more in the workers there than any other place where there appeared to be need of assistance. Mr. Greene said that since the start of the Rockefeller Foundation about a year ago it had dispensed in all $1,340,000 on its own behalf, and $2,116,000 on behalf of Mr. Rockefeller, Sr. All told, the foundation has expended about $1,000,000 for Belgian relief. There are other obligations which would have to be met later.

Black Eye for "Publicity."

The word "publicity," Mr. Greene said, had "been given a black eye" because of methods by which editorial and news space used to be purchased in newspapers. The "honest publicity" as dispensed by Ivy J. Lee," the witness thought, was perfectly fair and proper.

Mr. Greene said the character of the Rockefeller directors was insurance against a misuse of power. Legal restrictions upon the actions of directors would be bad, he thought, if there ever was a misuse of power it was within the right of the legislature to revoke the charter of the Rockefeller or any other foundation.

"Suppose the foundation controlled the legislature?" asked Chairman Walsh.

"If there ever was such a shocking situation I think the public would resort to it that the life of the offending corporation was short," Mr. Greene replied.

He was questioned about how he arranged for the legislature to grant the Rockefeller Foundation a charter. Under its charter the Rockefeller Foundation might conduct a propaganda against trade unionism, the witness admitted.

"But," he added, "such a thing would be atrocious. I might go out into the street and commit murder, if I had a gun."

Chairman Walsh asked Mr. Greene whether, under its charter, the foundation could prohibit the use of the union label in the publications to which it had given money.

"I don't like these questions," the witness replied. "They are unfair."

Mr. Walsh said he had no desire to be unfair, but that he just wanted to determine if such things were possible under the charter.

Mr. Greene said the foundation could conduct a campaign against workmen's compensation for injuries. "But I assure you that it would not," he added.

Characteristics of John D., Sr.

At the afternoon session Mr. Greene said figures quoted yesterday by Mr. Costigan regarding the much financial interest the Rockefeller Foundation had in Colorado were wrong. He said the foundation was in any way a factor in Colorado conditions.

Mr. Greene discussing characteristics of Mr. Rockefeller, Sr., said:

"He is always open-minded. He might reverse his own opinion if any one could show him he was wrong. He is open to suggestions from everyone. Even the office boy might offer a suggestion that he would take."

"How often do you see Mr. Rockefeller, Sr.?" asked Commissioner Walsh.

"I think I have seen him just twice in the last five years."

"Did you ever hear that Mr. Gates, who used to attend to all of Mr. Rockefeller's business, saw Mr. Rockefeller once in eight years?"

"That statement surprises me," replied the witness. "I never heard of that. Mr. Murphy sees Mr. Rockefeller twice. Mr. Starr J. Murphy sees Mr. Rockefeller frequently."

The witness said he usually communicated with Mr. Rockefeller through his son or in writing.

As for the Rockefeller bird refuge, Mr. Greene said there appeared to be considerable critics of it. The reason the refuge was established was, he said, because of the danger of insect-eating birds being slaughtered by hunters at times of migration. Agricultural interests demanded that the birds be protected, he said.

DEMAND FOR $900,000 MADE BY STOCKHOLDERS

Atlanta Company Named in Suit for Realty Bought in Tampa.

Tampa, Fla., February 3.—Alleging that $900,000 is due stockholders of the Bayshore Realty company from the Swann & Holtsinger company, of Tampa, selling agents, and demanding an accounting, Henry Barricklow and others, of Cadiz, Ohio, today filed a bill in equity in the United States court, asking that a receiver be appointed for both companies. Transactions are charged to A. R. Swann and Eugene Holtsinger, as a result of which, it is claimed, Swann has illegally secured $1,000,000 worth of property and Holtsinger is indebted to Swann & Holtsinger to the amount of $1,200,000.

Included in the defendants is George P. Raney, trustee for the Interstate Investment Company of Atlanta, said to represent the interests of A. R. Swann, and which has control of the property of the Bayshore Realty company and Swann & Holtsinger. It is charged in the papers filed today that this company was organized by Swann and Holtsinger after the purpose of concealing alleged illegal transactions which had occurred previously.

It is further alleged that enormous profits have been made by the Bayshore Realty company, which have not reached the stockholders and that shares are actually worth from fifteen to eighteen times par value.

CANADA DEMANDS BRIDGE DYNAMITER

And Dynamiter Appeals to German Ambassador to Escape Extradition—U. S. to Decide Case.

Washington, February 3.—The British ambassador today filed with the state department a request for extradition from Maine to Canada of Werner Van Horn, on charge of "attempted destruction of human life," in connection with the dynamiting of the St. Croix international railway bridge. The ambassador's note stated the request was based on a communication from the Canadian minister of justice.

If the application is found regular in form, Van Horn will be ordered before a United States commissioner and Canadian authorities allowed to appear against him. Should the commissioner decide there is no case, the prisoner might be discharged without further proceedings. Should extradition be ordered, however, an appeal to the state department would be admissible. Van Horn already has indicated he would fight extradition.

Appeals to German Embassy.

A telegram from the prisoner today asking the German ambassador to safeguard his interests, as he was a German subject, declared he "did not put foot on Canadian soil." That was taken to mean that though he was on the bridge, he did not actually stand on Canadian soil. As the international boundary runs middle line of the river and the piers of the bridge rest on Canadian soil at the end where Van Horn is said to have placed his charge of dynamite, officials attach no importance to this plea.

Van Horn's plea to the German ambassador was sent from Vanceboro, Maine, where he is in jail. It follows:

"I was arrested here for blowing up Canadian end of bridge at Vanceboro between Maine and Canada. I am held here by attorney general of Maine at the request of Canadian authorities, who are trying to get extradition papers for me from Washington. Please look after my interests in this matter as I am a German subject and did not put foot on Canadian soil. Answer."

The German embassy delayed passing upon Van Horn's request pending a report on his citizenship from the German consul general in New York.

Claims Offense Political.

State department officials declined to express any opinion as to Van Horn's contention that his offense was "political," that it was an act of war directed against his country's enemy, and that it was his intention to prevent continued transportation across this bridge of troops and munitions of war going to Europe to be used against Germany. It was pointed out, however, that to prove his act was an act of war, Van Horn must produce evidence that he was acting under higher authority and by direct orders. The act of an individual on his own responsibility usually is not accounted an act of war.

On the other hand, if the prisoner should produce evidence that he was acting under direction of the German government, it is said, a violation of the neutrality of the United States by Germany might be involved.

The Canadian government in making his application referred to the man as an ordinary civil criminal. It was pointed out incidentally that this insures Van Horn, if extradited, from being treated as a German spy or even as a military prisoner.

VAN HORN SON OF BAVARIAN GENERAL.

New York, February 2.—Werner Van Horn, who attempted to blow up the international bridge over the St. Croix river at Vanceboro, Maine, had many acquaintances among his countrymen in New York. According to them, Van Horn was formerly a captain of pioneers in the Bavarian army. It was said he claimed to be the oldest son of Count Karl Von Horn, former war minister of Bavaria and general in the Bavarian army.

Since leaving the Bavarian army several years ago Van Horn spent some time in South America and in Mexico, where he was when the war started. He tried to find passage to Germany to rejoin his regiment, and, failing, came to New York about two months ago. While here it was said Van Horn frequently discussed reports that Canadian troops had been transported across American territory in Maine.

CANADA GUARDING PARLIAMENT.

Ottawa, Ont., February 3.—The dynamiting of the international bridge at Vanceboro, Maine, yesterday has led the authorities to take extra precautions to prevent an attack on the Canadian parliament building at the opening of legislative sessions tomorrow. Officials fear that some partisan of a hostile nation may take advantage of the presence of the Duke of Connaught, governor general of Canada, to attempt something. The guard stationed in the parliament buildings will be increased. Strict scrutiny has been applied to the issuance of tickets of admission to the opeping functions.

NO RELIEF EXPEDITIONS ALLOWED BY RUSSIA

Washington, February 3.—Russia today informed the United States that only Russian military authorities would be permitted to distribute food, money and clothing to German and Austrian prisoners in Siberia. A relief expedition of American missionaries who started from Pekin with supplies for the prisoners will not be permitted to proceed.

The Russian communication, sent through Ambassador Marye, made it clear that food and clothing could be sent to soldiers held prisoners, but no money. All relief supplies must be addressed to commandants of the military districts.

No mention was made in the Russian reply of requests for permission to neutral diplomatic officers to inspect the prison camps, nor was any report made on the condition of the prisoners.

The communication was the first response to the American government's repeated representations on behalf of Austria and Germany, whose diplomatic interests are being cared for by the American embassy at Petrograd.

Many Americans were interested in the Pekin relief project which was understood to have the sanction of the Russian minister at the Chinese capital.

ONLY WAR QUESTIONS BEFORE THE COMMONS

London, February 3.—The house of commons today adopted a resolution under which the present session will be devoted exclusively to consideration of measures relating to the war. The resolution was presented by Premier Asquith and announced in by A. Bonar Law, for the opposition.

In support of the resolution Premier Asquith said:

"So long as war conditions prevail and until they are determined—I hope and trust that at no distant date they will be determined in our favor—we must postpone discussion of the plural voting bill and all domestic legislation in subordination to the one national purpose."

Baron Lucas, replying for the government to questions concerning alien enemies, said that, exclusive of prisoners of war, 18,259 aliens, all males, had been interned in the United Kingdom. Of these, 1,916 were released subsequently with the consent of the war office, after their records had been investigated by the police.

THAT SLINGSBY INFANT REAL SON OF MOTHER

English Judge Holds That Mrs. Slingsby Gave Birth to Boy. $500,000 Involved.

London, February 3.—The probate court decided today that the son of Charles R. Slingsby is the legitimate heir to the $500,000 baronial property of the Slingsby family in Yorkshire. The case has been before the courts for nearly two years.

Charles R. Slingsby, formerly a lieutenant in the British navy and afterward a resident of San Francisco, is in possession of the property which was devised to his offspring. When he asked the court to confirm the succession, a younger brother protested on the ground that the child was not a legitimate son, but an infant substituted by the lieutenant's wife when her own child died.

Since the case has been on trial evidence has been taken in California and records produced there to prove the child the legitimate son and heir of the Slingsbys.

The judge said that after an exhaustive review of the evidence, he had come to the conclusion that Mrs. Slingsby had given birth to this child on September 1, 1910, in San Francisco, and that the statement that she had put forward another child was untrue and invented for the purpose of the case.

Boy Resembles Mother.

The judge censured the manner in which the inquiry was handled and depositions taken in San Francisco, and emphasized his impression of the utter unreliability of witnesses opposing claims of the infant Slingsby.

"There is another matter," the court declared, "which is conclusive. I have watched the little boy in court, and I have been much impressed with the extraordinary likeness of the boy to Mrs. Slingsby. Moreover—it is difficult to speak of Mr. Slingsby in his presence—but he has a full, round face and a peculiarly shaped jaw, and the boy is a counterpart of his father in these respects. I felt so strongly on these matters that I called in a personal friend, a well-known artist, Sir George Frampton. I did not tell him my view, I merely asked him to come into court and watch. Sir George immediately noted the extraordinary resemblance of the boy to his father.

"The mother was not present that day," the judge continued.

"Sir George said he would like to see her, as he had noticed an odd shape of the boy's left ear, which did not resemble that of his father. Accordingly Mrs. Slingsby was brought to my room and introduced to the artist, who immediately observed the extraordinary similarity between the left ear of the mother and the left ear of the son. So far as I know, the child could not have these peculiarities unless they were congenital."

History of the Case.

San Francisco, February 3.—Lieutenant Slingsby married an American girl, Dorothy Culter Morgan. They lived several years on the Pacific coast. Teddy Slingsby, their son, today declared heir to the Slingsby fortune, was born in 1910. Three years later it became known that the birth certificate filed at Sacramento had been altered at the direction of the board of health to read: "Paul Colvin, father; Lillian Anderson, mother." Then came to light an advertisement in a San Francisco newspaper within a few days of the birth, and purporting to be in the handwriting of Mrs. Slingsby, calling for a new-born male infant.

The disclosures led to the trial of Dr. W. W. Frazier, of Weaverville, Cal., Mrs. Slingsby's physician, on a charge of having falsified a public record. He was acquitted on his defense that a birth certificate is not a public document within the meaning of the criminal court. The case then shifted to the British courts.

One Convicted; Two Acquitted

Pikeville, Ky., February 3.—One man was convicted and two were acquitted today in the trial of 1,100 men indicted for election frauds. The acquitted men were relatives of the trial judge, who held that the indictments were drawn improperly. Judgment was reserved on the convicted man.

IMMIGRATION VETO BEFORE HOUSE TODAY

Washington, February 3.—Decks were cleared today for the fight in the house tomorrow for re-passage of the immigration bill over President Wilson's veto. Both supporters and opponents of the measure sent urgent messages to absent members to be on hand for the vote. Representative Sabath, in charge of the opposition, declared the measure would fail by 29 votes if the absent two-thirds.

The house will meet early to take up the fight and the leaders predict a final vote before evening.

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

Look Young! Common Garden Sage and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

A special feature of the music is the singing of the Anderson "family" quartet.

Athens Bankers Organize.

Athens, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—About fifty banking men last night organized the "Athens Bankers' Society," for educational and social purposes. Judge Andrew J. Cobb spoke to the society last night on the history of banking laws. They will hold semi-monthly meetings. Hugh Gordon, president of the Commercial bank, is president of the new club, and S. Bernstein, head of the People's bank, is vice president. J. C. McClean, of the Georgia National, is secretary, B. F. Tuck, of the Athens Savings, is treasurer.

Band Inspection.

Shellman, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—The Second Georgia Regiment band, N. G. Ga., with headquarters here, was inspected today by Major Palmer of the regular army. This is the crack militia band of the state and they made their usual good showing. After inspection, the band gave a concert in the city park band stand.

EAGLE AND PHENIX IS TO OPERATE ON FULL TIME

Columbus, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eagle and Phenix mills today was marked by announcement that, effective at once, the mill will operate on full time. For some months the plant has been running only three days of the week. It is stated that the mills will run on full time until further notice. The Eagle and Phenix mills are the largest of the several great cotton manufacturing plants in Columbus and employ nearly 2,000 operatives. G. Gunby Jordan, president, and other officers were re-elected.

JANUARY WET MONTH IN THOMAS COUNTY

Thomasville, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—Jupiter Pluvius took a hand at running the weather in this section for January, as a consequence the record of the government weather bureau here shows the largest rainfall record in twenty years, or since the establishment of the bureau, there being no record of what it was before then. With a normal of 4.13 inches for January the amount of rainfall for the past month was 9.70, more than twice the normal and far ahead of that of 1914, which was only 4.85. More than half of the rain for last month, however, covered only twenty-four hours on the 17th and 18th. The temperature for the month ranged from 29 on the 2d to 75 on the 31st.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

A Kansas City Lady Darkened Her Gray Hair and Stimulated Its Growth by a Simple Home Process.

She Tells How She Did It

A well-known resident of Kansas City, Mo., who darkened her gray hair by a simple home process, made the following statement: "Any woman or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, stimulate its growth and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, 1 small box of Barbo Compound and 1-4 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently, then every two weeks. This mixture relieves scalp troubles and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair. It does not stain the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not run off. It will make a gray haired person look 10 to 20 years younger."

A New Season Has Brought New Fashions in Ready-to-Wear Section

The show days of a new season are here, that is, in the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose-Co. Ready-to-Wear Section.

And certainly we have new fashions to show, fashions women will want to see.

With All the New Silk Dresses, New Suits and New Sports Coats

now arrived women may go ahead with the preparing of their spring wardrobes with all the satisfaction in the world.

NEW SILK DRESSES

One look at the great crystal cases and a woman knows that here is the very spice of delightful choosing—variety.

One dress after another that in one way after another proves a fashion for spring. And the prices—a surprise here; we have not had such dresses in other seasons at these prices.

At $11.75 Dresses of taffeta and silk crepes.

At $14.75 Dresses of crepe de chine, taffeta and poplin.

At $17.85 Dresses of crepe de chine, poplin, charmeuse.

At $19.50 Dresses of bengaline, of crepe epingle, taffeta.

At $21.75 Dresses of crepe meteor, charmeuse, bengaline.

At $25.00 Dresses of taffeta, faille, crepe de chine.

But the ways in which they are fashioned!

Wonderfully smart, wonderfully attractive, with full skirts, shirred skirt-yokes, high waists, belted very often and showing peplums; others are in coat effects and many have the military cord trimmings. Different and distinctive certainly!

Tans, sand shade, putty, several new blues, a new green, and a gray called battleship gray that is much favored.

New Suits

Hundreds are ready for those who would get into new things.

The style changes are more decided than in many a season, too.

Wider skirts and shorter coats—coats that show a waist line, belted coat, coats fashioned much after the Empire style, peplum coats.

Priced at $18.75, $19.50, $25.00 and Upwards

All is ready.

New Sports Coats

We call them sports coats—no doubt the vogue of this short, loose coat will be general this spring—it is so serviceable and smart.

Priced at $9.75 Upwards to $25.00

At $9.75 are the white coats with black and green line plaids.

At $15.00 to $25.00 are the covert coats; also at $15.00 are the serge coats—belted and with plain backs.

Why is POSTUM Replacing Coffee?

People are waking up to the harmful effects of the powerful drug—caffeine—in coffee, which poisons the system, often resulting in nervousness, heart flutter, headache, biliousness and many other ills and discomforts.

The pure food-drink, Postum, is absolutely drug-free—made only of the choicest wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses. It contains no caffeine or other harmful elements.

If you doubt that coffee hurts you, a sure test is to leave it off for 10 days and use Postum. It's an easy change, too, for Postum tastes much like the mild, high-grade Javas. As the coffee-drug is eliminated from your system, your own feelings will suggest Postum and better health.

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be boiled, 15c and 25c packages; Instant Postum—soluble form, made in the cup with hot water instantly, 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.

ALDERMEN CONSIDER FINANCE SHEET TODAY

Generally Believed That Action Taken by City Council Will Be Ratified.

Only six members of the finance committee were present at Mayor Woodward's conference on the finance sheet Wednesday morning. They were Aldermen Kelley, McDonald, Ragsdale and Councilmen Johnson, Inman and Chairman Farlinger.

The men who bolted the finance committee were absent. They are Aldermen Maddox, Dunlap, Armistead and Seawright.

Mayor Woodward said that he was keenly disappointed over the failure of the entire membership of the committee to be present, but with the "faithful six" he went over some details of the sheet, and after discussing the question of excessive salaries, the remnant of the committee adjourned.

Believe Sheet Will Pass.

Faithful members of the committee declared Wednesday that they were certain that the sheet will be approved by the aldermanic board today. Only three votes will be cast against it. The sheet will immediately be sent to the mayor for his action. He still indicates that he will veto it, but such action on his part is not absolutely certain.

Last night Mayor Woodward said that he will be present at the meeting of the aldermanic board, and he explained that he intended showing to the doubtful members that they are taking a dangerous position in support of the sheet. He explained that he has figures to show that the anticipated revenue from various sources will fall below the amounts estimated.

"I am going to try and persuade the aldermen to take a patriotic view of the situation," said the mayor. "If I can convince them that they are wrong I feel certain that we can get together and adjust matters to the satisfaction of a majority of council and the aldermanic board, and at the same time preserve the best interests of the city.

"I would be ashamed, if I were a member of the finance committee, to repudiate a piece of business that I worked on for more than a week. But that is just what four members of the finance committee are going to do. They worked on the sheet for a whole week, and a whole night part of the time. After they made up a sheet in the best interest of the city they all signed it and declared that they would support it in council."

It is evident that the mayor expects to get action on the sheet early. It is understood that in the event he makes up his mind to veto the sheet, he will call a special meeting of council immediately in order that the sheet can be passed over his veto, and the money appropriated for various purposes can be released and the forces of the city put to work at once.

WOODALL IS NAMED SUCCESSOR OF HAYES

Late Wednesday afternoon Mayor Woodward announced the appointment of Charley Woodall, a bookkeeper in Comptroller Goldsmith's office, to the office of license inspector, to succeed Henry T. Hayes, who died several days ago.

Mr. Woodall has been connected with the city government for a number of years, and is a close personal friend of Mayor Woodward. In his position as bookkeeper he received a salary of $1,200 per annum. His new place will pay $1,500.

In appointing Mr. Woodall, Mayor Woodward took occasion to pay a glowing tribute to the memory of the late inspector. The mayor said that in all his dealings with Mr. Hayes he found him to be a thoroughly efficient and high-minded official. He declared that Inspector Hayes was one of the most reliable and efficient officers connected with the city government, and deplored his death and loss to the city government.

Surviving him are his wife, two sons, L. B. and C. W. Sanders; two daughters, Mrs. Lucius Westbrook and Mrs. A. F. O'Kelley, and a brother, C. M. Sanders. He was 85 years old.

FLOYD COMMISSIONERS SCANNING THE BILLS

Rome, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—A policy of economy has been instituted by the board of commissioners of Floyd county. They have adopted the plan of going over each bill presented in detail, and at the meeting now in progress a number of accounts have been shaved. The board has decided to inaugurate a system of repairing the macadamized roads throughout the county, and has advertised for bids for the work for the month and for the year.

New Industry at Rome.

Rome, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—W. M. McCormick and M. C. Broach, of Rome, have organized a company to be known as the American Municipal Motor company, for the purpose of manufacturing motor trucks of various kinds adapted for municipal use. The company is capitalized at $15,000, and a plant will be erected.

EDITORS AS GUESTS OF MOULTRIE CITIZENS

Moultrie, Ga., February 3.—(Special.) On next Tuesday, Friday 5, the Moultrie Chamber of Commerce and Moultrie Packing company will have as their guests editors of state papers and those of southeast Alabama and north Florida as their guests. At that time the Moultrie packing plant will have been in operation about two months and most of its products will be ready for inspection.

Fire in Augusta.

Augusta, Ga., February 2.—(Special.) A stubborn Broad street fire occurred about midnight last night in the rear of the Cafe Metropole. The entire department was required to subdue the flames, which had considerable start before discovered. One of the firemen was overcome by smoke and taken out unconscious, but he will recover. The damage will be about $1,000.

CREMATORY DEFENDED BY SALES ENGINEER

Plant Constructed to Meet the Conditions Specified by City, Says W. E. Dowd.

"A cat could be run through that crematory and, when it came out unsinged, I would still say that the plant was running in excellent order," said W. E. Dowd, sales engineer for the Destructor company, while under cross-examination by City Attorney James L. Mayson. This startling fact was emphatically announced while the attorney was asking about the component parts of common garbage and the breaking down of carbon compounds.

Mr. Dowd reiterated that the crematory was constructed to meet conditions which the city had specified and that it could be running at its maximum efficiency and yet fail to incinerate garbage under impossible conditions.

"The Destructor company not only wished to build a plant in Atlanta," he said, "but it wished to construct one that would be entirely satisfactory. When I made an investigation of the original proposition I believed that a modern plant, such as we have constructed, would lead to our obtaining similar contracts in other cities of the southeastern section of the country."

DAVIS' FATE IS IN HANDS OF JURY FOR THIRD TIME

Brunswick, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—The fate of Virgil H. Davis, charged with the murder of his wife, is for the third time in the hands of twelve men, and while predictions are being generally made again that the third mistrial will be the result, all connected are hoping that the jury will arrive at a verdict. The case went to the jury shortly after 10 o'clock tonight. All of the evidence was in at 4 o'clock. Solicitor Thomas opened for the state and was followed by Judge A. D. Gale, who spoke for an hour and a half for the defense.

Judge D. W. Krauss, leading counsel for the defendant, talked for over two hours, and was followed by Solicitor Thomas, who, in conclusion, argued for nearly two hours.

The general trend of the evidence during the trial has been the same as at two previous trials, only one or two new witnesses having been introduced.

W. W. PLUNKETT KILLED WHILE SWITCHING CARS

Walter W. Plunkett, switchman, was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon about 2 o'clock on the Georgia railway tracks at the Pearl street crossing, while switching some freight cars. The train ran over him and his body was cut to pieces.

Mr. Plunkett was 38 years old, and is survived by his wife, one child, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Plunkett, of Conyers, Ga., and three brothers, J. F., I. H. and G. E. Plunkett. The body is at Patterson's chapel, and will be taken Friday morning at 7:30 o'clock to Conyers for funeral and interment. He lived at 174 Oakland avenue.

URGES THE ENROLLMENT OF ALL SCHOOL CHILDREN

State Superintendent Sends Out Circular Letter to All County Superintendents.

M. L. Brittain, state superintendent of public education, has sent out a circular letter to all county superintendents in the state urging upon them the necessity of emphasizing the enrollment of all children upon the school rosters.

With each letter he gives the figures for 1913 of the number of children in the county to which the letter is directed who did not attend school a single day for that year.

In his letter he declares "we shall never succeed in educating the children who are not in our schools and in the absence of a compulsory law if the county authorities do not emphasize the enrollment of all children in the district the number of illiterates will not be diminished."

Superintendent Brittain, however, thinks the question of diminishing the illiterates is not a hopeless task. The figures recently issued by the federal bureau of education show that in Georgia the number of illiterate children per 1,000 in 1914 was 57, as against 108 in 1900.

The county superintendents largely are offering Superintendent Brittain considerable co-operation.

He has just received a letter from W. R. Morris, county superintendent at Hartwell, Ga., telling of his plans for institute day there, February 5, when he hopes to do much toward having the teachers to see that all children are enrolled.

Mr. Brittain has in his office the stub of a personal check which he values very highly. This represents a prize that he offered personally for the teacher who would do the best work in reducing illiteracy among adults. This prize was won by Miss A. Brooke, in Bartow county. So successful was she that when there was about to be a change and she was to go elsewhere the people of Bartow would not stand for it, and she had to stay there.

Shooting Affray in Hart.

Hartwell, Ga., February 3.—(Special.) John Richardson surrendered to Sheriff Johnson today, after having shot Wofford Bailey. It is not thought the wound will prove fatal. Both are prominent young white farmers.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 1 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hotaling's Newsstands, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner), Thirty-eighth street and Broadway and Twenty-ninth street and Broadway.

THE MOTHERS TAKE HOLD.

After a conference with the officers of similar associations throughout the city, Mrs. R. M. Walker, president of the Parent-Teacher association of the Tenth Street school, has issued a call for a mass meeting of all these associations to be held at the Carnegie library, next Saturday, 10 a. m.

Back of the meeting is the dynamic fact that the mothers of Atlanta have taken hold of the school situation. That means it will be solved. The women of Atlanta have never yet failed in an important civic undertaking. Here is an undertaking that involves the future welfare of their children. The mothers of Atlanta may be counted upon to hang to this tangled skein until it is unraveled.

The enlistment of the Parent-Teacher associations in the campaign is a wise move. Next to the parent, the teacher understands the child and knows what influences best work for its development and what influences retard.

The Constitution will not undertake to guide these women in their plans and deliberations except upon broad general principles. They are informed already as to the details of the task to be done.

Educational facilities in Atlanta must be equalized!

We now have the spectacle of hundreds of children securing only four hours of schooling, as against the standard five and one-half hours.

No step that stops short of a complete remedy for this condition will be effectual. The Constitution's work last fall was largely instrumental in cutting down the abominable double sessions in the white schools from forty-five to sixteen.

But—the double sessions must go altogether. The city that does not sufficiently recognize the democratic principle of perfect equality in educational opportunity is building upon a foundation of sand.

In many other respects, too numerous to mention, the schools stand in need of standardization. No schools have been built in two years, with the school population jumping. We need more playgrounds and numerous other improvements.

Above all things, the city must prepare for the certain congestion that confronts the public school system next fall.

The mothers of Atlanta have taken hold. The Constitution pledges itself to aid in the solution of their problems, which are the problems of the whole city and of the Atlanta of tomorrow.

EUROPE'S FOOD.

The news that England has declared cargoes of flour and grain as conditional contraband need occasion no surprise or alarm in this country. The action was provoked by Germany's confiscation of all food products within her borders. England foresaw in this a possible diversion of cargoes sent from America to neutral countries. Hence her step. Since most of our trade is with the allies, and since the allies at any rate control the seas, the new edict will not materially alter the situation. The announcement makes pertinent a brief review of the important question of food conditions in Europe.

Of all the countries involved, England has most cause to guard its national pantry. England must, to a controlling extent, live on exported foodstuffs. Shut off foodstuff imports for a month or two and, as Sir Conan Doyle showed in a recent story, the island would be starved into submission in comparatively short order.

Germany is more favorably situated. Her partisans have frequently raised the claim that the empire was provisioned for a year in advance. The recent restrictive measures indicate that attitude rather in the nature of a bluff. Still, Germany does raise much wheat and cattle and truck, although not quite enough to feed her population, and since her soil has not been as yet invaded and agricultural operations interfered with, she can stand a siege better than England.

France is relatively in the same position as Germany, although even France imports foodstuffs from this country. Vast Russia, with its huge stretches ideally adapted to wheat and cattle raising, has increased her power of self-support, but it is to be doubted if she even now produces enough to feed her 180,000,000.

In Hungary there have been bread riots and much suffering from hunger. While Austro-Hungary is bound not to sign peace until Germany does so, it may be that revolution at home will force the hands of statesmen.

The commissary is going to play almost as vital a role in this great war as numbers, strategy and cannon. And the commissary applies to the people at home as well as to the men distant on the firing line.

A NATIONAL SCANDAL.

"The veterans of the civil war are dying at the rate of 25,000 a year; one hundred pass away every day. We are spending more for pensions now than we ever have spent before."

That is the arraignment brought against the democratic party in the current issue of "World's Work," an editorial extract from which is reproduced elsewhere on this page. Our contemporary proceeds to say that it was bad enough when one republican administration after another shamelessly jammed through indefensible blanket and private pension measures. There was, it says, some hope for relief when the democratic party came into power. But the democrats have almost unlocked the treasury doors and thrown the key away. Certainly, their pension extravagances have made those of the republicans look pale by comparison. And the republican party, in its palmiest and most daring days of pension pillage, never produced a Sherwood, whose pension proposals have shocked even the G. A. R.

No one objects to legitimate pensions within legitimate bounds, but the people revolt at the plunder now characterizing pension legislation. The attitude of the democratic party in this respect is particularly indefensible. Traditionally the champion of economy, it seems to have formed a co-partnership with pension and political graft of the worst type.

Speaking of war taxes! If the rivers and harbors bill were abandoned for a year and the pension expenditures placed within reasonable figures, there would be no need of a war tax. Evidence accumulates that the country wearies of pork bill extravagance and pension frauds.

The party is coming in for an accounting, if it persists upon its present course with regard to pensions.

A NOTABLE RECORD.

The Golden Jubilee and Exposition Edition of The San Francisco Chronicle marks the semi-centenary of a noteworthy man and a noteworthy newspaper. In January, 1865, two brothers, Charles and M. H. de Young, founded The Chronicle. Thirty-five years ago Charles de Young died, leaving M. H. de Young in sole ownership and control, which he has maintained to this day.

So seldom does any man live to celebrate the semi-centenary of any enterprise he has founded, newspaper or otherwise, that the event is remarkable. In the case of M. H. de Young, the distinction that years bring is enhanced by the prestige of nation-wide recognition of ability and influence. When he and his brother founded The Chronicle, San Francisco was little more than a village, just trailing the history of the argonauts. Through every phase of the city's history The Chronicle has stood boldly and progressively for the development of the city, becoming a powerful influence on the Pacific slope and its reputation extending through the country.

The special edition of The Chronicle is an epitome of the history of San Francisco and its exposition, beautifully illustrated and plentifully supplied with historical facts. It is worthy of the man who, with it, celebrates his half century of active connection with the paper.

PLUCKING THE PLUCKERS.

Majority Leader Underwood has rendered a genuine service to the navy and the country in leading the fight which has induced the house to abolish the "plucking board" in the navy department. Concurrence by the senate and signature by the president will put an end to a practice that is dangerous, un-American, unjust and subversive to the best interests of the naval establishment.

By the operations of the plucking board, always conducted in secret, any naval officer, irrespective of rank, distinction, service, age or fitness, could be summarily retired without reason or redress. The injustices worked in this connection, and the cost to the country, would be difficult to estimate.

Men who were perfectly fit, physically, mentally and otherwise, have been retired without warning to make way in the line for some favorite with political or other pull. The result is, that there has been produced a large contingent of dissatisfied officers, men who had not wanted to retire, who were full of ambition for promotion and for service. On the other hand, there has been a contingent of parasites who wanted to loaf at the nation's expense, or who aspired to some other occupation, and who commanded sufficient influence with the plucking board to get themselves retired.

In either instance the farce is annually enacted and the treasury pays the price. The education and equipment of every naval officer represents a large sum. When he is arbitrarily retired for no sufficient reason, that investment is largely lost to the country.

Of course that is putting matters on a dollars and cents basis, which is not so sordid after all, considering that we lack sufficient officers to man our navy. The principle is the main thing. This is no country for star chamber proceedings. If an officer, navy or army, is suspected of any sort of unfitness, he should be tried in the open, and given a chance for self-defense. Let him know with what he is charged. Inquisitorial methods do not go in this country!

Congress will do a good day's work in plucking the plucking board!

The senate and the president should not hesitate to concur in the action of the house.

The Later Dream.

I.

You hear the song o' the living rills
When you get in sight o' the Higher Hills,
But even then, on the blossom track,
There's something always calling back,
And you look behind, and it seems right fair,
And good to rest by the roadside there;
But the Higher Hills, they beckon on.
And a dream's to dream when a dream is gone.

II.

Backward is many a loved, sweet place
Where over the rosea the spring winds race,
And Love is smiling, with eyes so bright!—
But onward, the hills with the later light!
And the later light in glory streams,
And the dreamer reads his brighter dreams.
And there is no turning; we still face on,
For a dream's to dream when a dream is gone.

III.

Brighter light than the light of tears
Falling over the grave of years;
For the later light is the light that lives
And a glimpse of a fairer future gives;
And if there lingers a thought of sighing
You hear Life's voice to Life replying:
"The Higher Hills still call us on,
And a dream's to dream when a dream is gone."

New International Encyclopedia
A Wonderful Publication

The second edition of the New International Encyclopedia, now being issued by Dodd, Mead & Co., of New York, marks an epoch for the student and the man of affairs.

The casual reader is familiar with the dreary stretches of the average encyclopedia, with the neat, incessant digging and the disappointment that comes at the end of the search, all too frequently. To such, the New International will come as a storehouse of authenticated information, saved by snappy treatment from dullness and wonderful for its comprehension.

The editors of an encyclopedia often determine its success or failure. In this case, the success of the second edition of the International ought to be assured. Frank Moore Colby, M. A., formerly professor in New York university, and one of the editors of the first edition, is also an editor of the second edition. Collaborating with him is Talcott Williams, LL. D., L. H. D. Litt., D., director of the school of journalism of the Columbia university, and an extensive staff of the ablest talent that could be gathered for the work.

Up to the Minute.

The European war is, of course, now foremost in the world mind and many questions rising therefrom puzzle the man who is not an expert.

Take, for instance, these questions as specimens:

What is a mitrailleuse, Maxim machine gun, mortar, siege gun, howitzer?

What is shrapnel, the French corps, division, regiment, battalion, company?

What are Uhlans, cuirassiers, lancers, Walloons?

What are Moujiks, Turcos, Algerians, Senegalese?

What is the meaning of moratorium, landwehr, landsturm, Landsturm, cloacinym, vodka, verst, kilometer, pan-Germanism, balance of power, foreign exchange, reichstag?

What are the "Rules of War," and who signed them?

What are the commercial centers of Latin America; what goods have these countries been buying from Europe?

How do you pronounce P-R-Z-E-M-Y-S-L?

Each of these questions in the second edition of the New International answers, not in dry detail, but with a succinctness that makes the information familiar next time it comes across the term in the papers or in a periodical.

Exhaustive History.

The twenty-four volumes of the history cover historical topics with a thoroughness that leaves nothing to be desired. Almost any angle the attempt is to include range rather than exhaustive detail.

Much light is thrown on ancient history, in accordance with the latest discoveries. The work abounds with maps, embracing the latest geographical discoveries in polar research.

Special Study Courses.

A premium is put upon special study by the compact arrangement of such subjects as sociology, music, military and naval science, including a veritable text-book, medicine and surgery, mathematics and manufactures.

These are only topics picked at random, and handled by experts. Others as important are law and political science, language and literature, with special attention to range and completeness, geology, geography, games and sports, electricity, painting, engineering, architecture, chemistry, education.

No casual review of an encyclopedia covering twenty-four volumes can hope to convey more than a casual impression of its various qualities. Of those cited, as well as others, it may be said they have been handled in workmanlike manner and with religious attention to accuracy.

Illustrations.

The twenty-four volumes carry 80,000 articles and 20,000 pages. The binding is in different styles to suit mood and pocketbook. The illustrations, which are handsome, whether plain or in colors, are arranged with a view to educate, rather than the dry and meaningless pictures that usually adorn the pages of publications of this character. The cost has been brought within reach of the averse man, and the publishers offer to arrange easy terms.

The old New International did service for ten years and made itself a standard work of reference. The assertion is safe that the second edition will enhance that reputation.

RIPPLING RHYMES
By WALT MASON.

PROHIBITION.

In Russia none can buy a flagon of vodka or old rye; the men must ride the public wagon—the country's all gone dry. The law affects all grades of critters, the humble and the rich; and those who lately sipped their bitters now lift the pumpovitch. Appeals of western prohibition you'll look for there in vain; you will not find there a condition that one mister Bryan, of Maine. There's no relief for thirsty beggars, no help for Russian sports; the alleys know no cheap bootleggers, no hole-in-wall resorts. The old-time tricks that fooled the world don't work there, worth a cent; a man may sprain his eyebrows winging; the druggist won't relent. Oh if Russia's brand of law prohibits, in country and in town, and soon her prisons and her gibbets will all be taken down. If someone hasn't told a whopper, about conditions there, the country soon won't have a pauper, which had them everywhere. The world will watch this Russian measure, so timely and so wise; 'twill watch, and doubtless note with pleasure a nation nobly rise, from abject depths of degradation, from lying in the ditch; oh happy that progressive nation which hits the pumpovitch!

Better Prospects for South.

(From The Christian Science Monitor, Boston.)

In the south the belief is growing that the critical stage of the cotton situation has been passed safely. Not only are exports increasing, but there is a revival of domestic consumption. One of the reports of the last few days cheering to American trade in general was the announcement of the purchase of eight cotton-carrying steamers in southern ports. International complications may interfere with the voyage of some of these vessels, but cargo will be protected and eventually will reach its destination. Indications point to heavy shipments of cotton to foreign ports generally from this time on.

But the south finds occasion for even greater rejoicing in the fact that American factories are increasing their consumption of the staple. New Orleans reports mill takings for last week as "unexpectedly large." An authority puts them at 425,000 bales, as against 398,000 for the corresponding week of 1914. The takings of northern mills were 95,000, as against 62,000 a year ago. The mill districts, both north and south, were pessimistic until recently; greater purchases of cotton in the bale would indicate that there is now greater activity in the factories.

Our contemporary, The Atlanta Constitution, is so confident that the tide has turned as to be convinced of the near fulfillment of a prophecy it made last fall, that 1915 "would be an exceedingly prosperous year for the south." Whether this may be regarded as a prophecy or not, the outlook for the south certainly is justifying The Constitution's very persistent and pleasing optimistic tone.

LIFE IN THE TRENCHES.
By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

As the present war goes on the wisdom of the American republic in staging its great rebellion in the mild climate of the southern states becomes increasingly apparent.

During all the present winter millions of European soldiers have been living in trenches far from the comforts even of an American street in midwinter—for an American street is usually well drained, while the trenches fill with water which then freezes, making it necessary to chop the garrison out in the morning at great labor and expense.

Winter in western Europe consists of blizzards and thaws and mud and ice in equal parts. After a private soldier has lain for a few days in a trench paved with six inches of mud, frozen feet come almost as a relief.

Just as a trench becomes comfortable its occupants must rise and charge forward 1,000 yards.

In the trenches one does not have a chance to bathe or thaw out or sleep with any persistency, or drink hot lemonade for incipient pneumonia. It is impossible to "make any time keeping warm, because the entire business of war is to make it warm for the enemy.

We cannot help thinking that if parliament, the reichstag, the house of deputies and the duma were to be compelled to legislate in trenches with chilblains at their feet, a gnawing, empty sensation half way up and unlimited shrapnel just overhead, some new and very intelligent ideas regarding peace might be evolved within a few days.

They say that when the soldiers have lived in a trench for a few weeks they make it fairly habitable by draining it, digging deep caves and installing baths and settees and a card table. However, patriotism demands that just as a trench becomes sufficiently comfortable to keep a hog in without arousing the humane society, its occupants must rise and charge forward 1,000 yards, drive the enemy before them and and lying down triumphantly once more in the mud and snow.

French life is wasted in Europe, particularly upon the English, who have already learned how to live happily in unheated houses at a temperature of 40 with fog and dampness, but it would be a great education and help to millions of Americans.

After an American soldier has survived a campaign in a trench he would look upon the modern street car with more fortitude, and would be able to hang onto the roof during the rush hours in January or stand on the crowded floor in perfect comfort. He might even be able to live in a city flat building operated by a janitors' union without murmur or complaint.

Democrats and Pensions.

(From World's Work.)

About 20,000 bills are introduced in every session of congress, covering the numerous and complicated interests that affect nearly 100,000,000 American citizens. Of these 30,000 bills only one-third, or about 10,000, concern the nation's larger affairs. The remaining two-thirds, or 20,000, affect a small minority—less than 800,000 of the American people. This minority, however, is the most persistent and successful private interest in the United States. They are chiefly the survivors of the civil war that ended fifty years ago. By the aid of their 20,000 bills, they annually take about $174,000,000 out of the federal treasury. A single measure, passed two years ago, increased our pension expenditures $25,000,000, and the legislative calendar is constantly choked with bills that would add still more to the pension budget. The veterans of the civil war are dying at the rate of 35,000 a year; one hundred pass away every day; of the more than two million men on the union side, fewer than 500,000 now survive. The amazing thing about our pension system is this rapidly decreasing civil war army and the still more rapidly increasing pension expenditure. We are spending more for pensions now than we ever have spent before.

Thomas Hibben, Jr., in his "Democracy and Liberty," argues against democracy on the ground that, under this system of government, it is the inevitable tendency for one section of society to insert its hands into the pockets of the others. He draws one illustration for his favorite thesis from the American pension system. Whatever we may think of his political philosophy, there can be no question that his illustration is an apt one. For nearly fifty years the republican party has fostered this pension habit, reducing it to a regular system of exchanging the old soldier's vote for a free franking privilege in the federal treasury.

Democrats Lead Republicans.

Until 1912, all the vicious pension laws have been republican laws. Grover Cleveland was the only administration that had set itself against this abuse. When the democrats again secured possession of the house in 1912, therefore, the country expected something in the way of a reform. In fact, the Democratic party has far outdistanced the republican record in pension debauchery. It has passed outrageous laws that the republicans had refused to put on the statute book. Only republican opposition has prevented a more shameless raids upon the federal treasury. In Isaac R. Sherwood the democrats have produced a pension fanatic who is a worthy counterpart in the long list of republican war horses. Congressman Sherwood's pension ideas are so extreme that even the Grand Army of the Republic has denounced them, and publicly rapped Mr. Sherwood down when he has tried to explain them to their gatherings. A single circumstance shows the extent to which he approaches this problem. When someone asked Mr. Sherwood where he was to get the money to pay pensions provided for by his bill, he formulated this scheme: to reduce greatly appropriations for the present standing army; to muster out the larger part of it; to stop building battleships and scrap those that we have; and to end all construction work on the Panama canal. If these economies did not furnish money enough to pay the "old fellows," then Mr. Sherwood and his associates advocated bond issues for this patriotic purpose.

Four years ago the World's Work published a series of articles on this great national scandal. Since then much pension history has been made. Beginning in the March number, therefore, the World's Work will take up this subject again, showing the new aspect for which our new political era is responsible. In this series, as in the earlier one, the distinction between deserved and undeserved pensions is made clear. No one begrudges adequate relief to the patriots who were disabled in the course of real service to the union. But the horde of deserters, "bounty jumpers," widows of "broomstick marriages," and other fraudulent pensioners of types too numerous to catalogue have no claims upon the gratitude of the nation. They are the worst enemies of the deserving pensioner, for they trade upon his reputation to prey upon the source of his earned relief.

The Holland Letter

President Wilson is thought here to have been well advised when he began to contemplate the postponement of the ceremonial and formal opening of the Panama canal until July 4. For it was stated that among the reasons which have persuaded him that it might be the better part to postpone the ceremony was the perfecting of measures which would prevent the slides in the Culebra cut. From the far west there come expressions of disappointment that any delay in the opening of the canal may seem advisable. Upon the eastern coast of the United States there is now only imperfect knowledge of the great activity and development which are in progress in Alaska. Seattle is the gateway to Alaska and its rapid growth in population is in part due to its advantageous situation with respect to Alaska. It was expected that crude material in great amounts would be brought from Alaska to Seattle and then transported by way of the Panama canal to the Atlantic coast. So, also, the Canadian lumbermen were counting upon heavy export of lumber from Vancouver by way of the Panama canal to the Atlantic ports, being persuaded that they could in that way market some Minds of lumber much as far west from the Atlantic coast as Ohio at less prices than the American lumbermen would be compelled to charge.

There have been in contemplation heavy shipments of wheat from the Canadian northwest by way of the Panama canal direct to Europe. There is a prospect, also, of ship its sugar by the Panama canal to the United States and it has been the expectation that great quantities of magnesite mined in the only considerable mine of that kind in the United States would be constantly shipped from California to Atlantic ports by way of the Panama canal.

So, also, Charles M. Schwab has purposed constant shipments of iron ore from Chile, in a fleet of steamships especially built for that purpose, to Philadelphia. William R. Grace & Co. have contracted for the construction of three large steamships which are to be added to the South American fleet and which will utilize the Panama canal.

The railway managers of the United States no longer apprehend that the Panama canal may seriously impair the earning capacity of their roads. For the canal will float steamers whose cargoes are in many instances of a kind which would not be offered for railroad transportation across the continent. The railroad managers learned a lesson after the national Sault Ste. Marie canal was opened for navigation. For through this canal passes a tonnage greater in bulk than that which passes through the Suez canal which could not afford to pay railroad transportation rates. This crude material, however, has enormously quickened the steel industry that the railroads are receiving, or will receive in normal times, a fair proportion of the prosperity it makes possible. That is likely to be the case with respect to the Panama canal.

What Must Be Done.

All of these considerations will probably serve later to impress the American people with the fact that there is really a serious problem to solve at the Culebra cut than will the announcement that President Wilson deems it the better part to postpone the ceremonial opening for five months at least.

More and more the conviction is being firmly established that there is as yet some undiscovered geological condition which until it is mastered is likely occasionally to cause heavy slides down the Culebra mountain into the canal, entailing thereby constant dredging and also suspension of navigation. Colonel Goethals, probably, as a man of science, has a reasonable hypothesis respecting the nature of this geological condition, but, of course, it is not expedient for him at the present time to make public views which are after all no more than a hypothesis. The fact remains that in spite of the most carefully taken precautions the Culebra mountain is still treacherous. It is also apparent that not yet have the men of science reached the causes of the trouble.

Yet the conviction is firm that science will point the way by which the mastery of the Culebra mountain may be obtained. Frequently reference is made to the determination of E. H. Harriman to conquer the great Salt Lake. Some of the best authorities assured him that no method of measuring the depth of that mysterious body of water had yet been devised by the engineers. All they knew was that somewhere below the surface everything that was cast into the lake which did not float was absorbed and permanently lost. Mr. Harriman could not construct a causeway or railroad across that lake he would thereby secure a saving of some miles for his Union Pacific system as well as more economical hauling of trains, for, of course, a viaduct would have no grades. Mr. Harriman was convinced that if science could not point the way then plain common sense might. He was sure that there was a bottom to the lake. Therefore, he ordered that many tons of rock be thrown into the lake until the measuring line was great enough gradually to build up a stone wall or embankment from the bottom of the lake sufficiently firm to support a heavily laden railroad train. It cost a great deal of money, but common sense and Mr. Harriman's perseverance were triumphant and the viaduct stands as a monument to his energy, persistency and common sense, as he called it.

Science Should Do It.

If, therefore, such a mysterious problem as was involved in the management of the mystery of the Great Salt Lake could be solved, there seems to be no reason why science—which has the way to penetrate the Alps and which has recently completed a maryalous piece of tunnel construction a thousand feet below the surface of the Hudson river—should not solve the problem of the water of the aqueduct system—cannot discover the method by which the treachery of the Culebra mountain may be forever prevented.

It is necessary, however, first of all, to learn what is the "fault," using that term in its technical and geological sense; how deep down does the fault extend. "Faults" of that kind are there, before science can devise a method of overcoming permanently this trouble. The common opinion here is that as the canal has already cost the United States, directly or indirectly, in excess of $400,000,000, it is only the highest degree economical that a sufficient amount of money be appropriated to make the mastery of this danger certain. New York state appropriated $101,000,000 for the purpose of constructing a barge canal from Lake Erie to tidewater on the Hudson. Now it is discovered that this amount is not adequate and in order to save $101,000,000 it may be necessary to expend $30,000,000 more. There should be reliance upon the judgment of Colonel Goethals and the other engineers, it is felt in this city, that science will be sufficient to master this difficulty and that the time is not distant when the canal will be safely and readily navigated probably to its full capacity.

Pain Racks Chinese Girls.

(From "A Woman in China," by Mrs. Mary Gaunt.)

As I went through the villages, in the morning and evening, I could hear the crying of children. They cried because the bandages on their feet were being drawn more tightly. Always it is a gnawing pain, and the only relief the little girl can get is by pressing the calf of her leg tightly against the edge of the brick bench.

The pressure stops the flow of blood and numbs the feet as long as it is kept up, but it cannot be kept up long, and with the rush of blood comes the increase of pain—a pain that the tightening of the bandages deepens. As a doctor said, "A Chinese woman is just as well with a pair of wooden legs as with the stumps the binding has left her."

WILL USE STEEL CAGES FOR FULTON CONVICTS

Ministers Protest, But Indications Are Original Plan Will Be Carried Out.

Although strong opposition was set up by representatives of religious organizations, the declaration being made that conditions in Fulton county's convict system were already the worst in the state, the board of county commissioners will, in all probability, decide to install portable cages for the convicts.

This is indicated by the instructions given to agents of the cage manufacturers to submit plans, specifications and bids at a call meeting next Saturday. Among those who protested against the caging of convicts in rolling camps were Marion Jackson, of the executive board of the Men and Religion Forward Movement; Philip Weltner, of the Prison Reform association, and Rev. Charles O. Jones and Dr. Chauncey L. Foote.

"It is inhuman to cage men like beasts on exhibition in portable cages like you propose," protested Mr. Jackson. "Prison conditions in the south are already bad enough, especially in Fulton county. It is horrible to contemplate such a move."

Mr. Jackson said that the example of Fulton county would have a bad influence over other south state counties. He recalled the denunciation of the convict system here by Governor Hooper.

To this Chairman Turman made reply that Governor Hooper had said some things untrue in his tirade—also that Hooper was defeated in his last campaign.

Instead of the proposed wheel cages, Philip Weltner suggested tents, but this was opposed by the board because of the danger of escapes from tents, which, to a great degree, would be eliminated by the rolling camps.

UNIQUE POINT DECIDED IN COLLECTING REWARD

Attorney General Warren Grice has decided that where a reward is offered for the arrest, with evidence to convict one person, and another person is arrested and convicted of the crime, the reward is collectable by the arrestor of the convicted person.

The question arose in the case of George Washington, a negro, for whose capture a reward of $200 was offered last November 2, for assault upon a white woman in Calhoun county. Ransom Williams, a negro, was arrested by Paul H. Smith at Quitney, Fla., and, upon change of venue, was tried and convicted of the crime in Dougherty county, December 21. He was hanged in Albany January 15.

Smith claimed the reward. The attorney general ruled in his favor, on the ground that the object of a reward is to apprehend the guilty party, whether he be the person stipulated in the reward offer or not.

TWO SPECIAL SERVICES AT FIRST UNIVERSALIST

The special meetings being held at the First Universalist church are creating much interest. Last night the pastor preached on the subject, "Heaven and Hell." Tonight at 7:45 o'clock, Dr. C. H. Robinson, of Chattanooga, will preach on the theme of "Why I Am a Universalist." The series will close with a sermon Friday night on "Our Declaration of Faith."

The information we obtain by the count will be used to further religious work in Atlanta.

He Selects the Steps Of Undertaker's Shop As Place to Slumber

George Russell, of Birmingham, Ala., selected an unusual spot to slumber when he fell into a doze on the front steps of a local undertaker's establishment early Wednesday morning. George was not breaking the peace exactly, but the sonorous sounds emitted from the sleeper awoke the attendants of the shop. The police arrived and the lock-up followed.

Before Recorder Johnson, Russell stated that he had looked once too often on the whisky glass the evening before. "I used to work for an undertaking firm in Alabama and when I noticed the sign, late in the night, it occurred to me that I was home."

Judge Johnson dismissed the charge of drunk against the former undertaker upon the consent of the prosecution.

FIFTH WARD CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

An important meeting of the Fifth Ward Improvement club will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the English avenue school. The chief subject of discussion will be the grading and paving of the streets of the ward. The outstanding committees will also make their reports. "All committeemen are requested to come at 7 o'clock for a preliminary meeting," said A. C. Burton, secretary of the club, "and we insist that all interested in the purposes of the club shall attend the regular meeting."

BATES GETS SENTENCE THAT HE REQUESTED

In order to become a citizen of Atlanta in the eyes of the local naval recruiting officers of the United States navy, Herman Bates, 18, of Rochester, N. Y., on Wednesday pleaded with Judge George E. Johnson to give him thirty days in the stockade.

"The navy won't consider my application until I have lived in Atlanta thirty days," he said. "Judge, I cannot find any work here, so send me to the stockade for thirty days, where I can work for my board."

Bates got his sentence.

LOW PRICE OF COTTON CAUSED RECEIVERSHIP

Tifton, Ga., February 3.—(Special.) The appointment of a receiver over the affairs of J. H. Young, of Tifton, is of much interest to the people of this section. Mr. Young is one of the largest farmers of this section and owns a considerable tract of land. His affairs are valued at $240,000 and his liabilities at about half that amount. The proceeding was a friendly affair and was taken as a protection for Mr. Young himself, as well as his creditors. This was signified by the appointment of Mr. Young and J. J. Golden, a personal friend, as joint receivers.

Judge Thomas, who granted the order for receivership, has authorized the receivers to carry on the work of their farms for the present year. It is believed that within that time Mr. Young will be able to raise sufficient money to relieve his obligations. The condition of Mr. Young's finances which made the appointment of a receiver necessary was brought about mainly through the prevailing low price of cotton.

Friends of Mr. Young in this section are elated over the fact that he was able to keep his affairs out of the bankruptcy court, as the property he owns are very valuable and worth about double what he owes.

SPENCER CLARK GOES TO PRISON FOR ONE YEAR

Ashburn, Ga., February 3.—Spencer Clark, who had been sentenced to life imprisonment here for killing Will Zorn on March 17, 1914, was today granted a new trial by Judge H. C. Cox. Immediately afterward, Attorney John R. Cooper, of Macon, offered a plea of guilty of involuntary manslaughter for his client, which the court accepted and sentence of one year in prison was then imposed.

Clark and his brother, Marion, saw a man in the Zorn home, whom they thought was a burglar. They watched him and as he left the house, Spencer Clark shot him.

A. Holtzendorf, G. E. Ricker and D. M. Mann chaperoned the young ladies and assisted them.

POLICE ARE CALLED TO DISPERSE CROWD OF MILL STRIKERS

A squad of mounted police, under Sergeant Hewell, were summoned to the gates of the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills Wednesday morning to disperse a crowd of 200 strikers, who had assembled at the entrance to the mills, and were attempting to persuade the employees as they came to work to join the strikers.

Sergeant Hewell, from headquarters, warned the leaders not to repeat the demonstration, and the strikers quietly dispersed without any threats of violence.

The strikers had come to the mills from the "Tented Colony," on East Fair street, and, after marching around the plant, had assembled at the gates, when the police arrived.

BOY FATALLY WOUNDED WHILE OUT HUNTING

Cordele, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—A 14-year-old son of W. W. Yarbrough, a prominent farmer of Crisp county, living in the Arabi community, was fatally wounded this afternoon when the entire load from a shotgun, which was accidentally discharged by him, entered his stomach, almost entirely blowing off his left hand. A hole as large as two hands was blown in the boy's stomach. He had taken the gun from the house without the knowledge of any of the family and carried it off to a nearby swamp. An older brother and a negro were within a short distance and they were attracted by the discharge of the gun and the boy's cries.

ROME WOMEN APPEAL IN TEACHERS' BEHALF

Rome, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—In order to help school teachers of the common school system of Floyd county to secure a prompter payment of salaries a delegation from the Woman's club of Rome, headed by their president, Mrs. A. W. Van Hoose, visited the county board of education at the courthouse yesterday and urged the county board to borrow the money so that the teachers might not be forced to wait for their pay. Though no action was taken, the clubwomen hope for good results.

TAYLOR CLAIMS THAT HE SHOT IN SELF-DEFENSE

Augusta, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—Joseph J. Taylor, the young man who shot and killed W. H. McCullough Sunday night, will be released on bail. Taylor claims that the dead man and his friends had threatened before to run him out of that part of town, as they were very jealous of any attentions being paid to the young women of their acquaintance by men who live in other parts of the city or in other states. He claims that he was attacked first and, after a scuffle, shot in self-defense. Taylor will be helped by his condition very materially by the reputation of the part of town where he was when the shooting occurred, it being largely a mill population.

FINE BREED CATTLE SENT TO THE FARMERS

Athens, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—The State College of Agriculture today will send several fine young heifers and bulls to farmers' associations near Jesup, and near Washington, Ga., two far apart sections of the state—where interest in dairying and beef cattle has been aroused by the purchase of pure breed cattle. Every day the college is asked for advice as to the best breeds for beef, for dairy and for combination purposes. Through advice and personal attention many carloads of pure breed Herefords, short-horns and other varieties have been brought to Georgia in the past few months.

The total during the month of January in which there were two holidays and five Sundays was $240,281.22. This is an average daily clearing of about $1,200. This is a good showing for Milledgeville and proves that in spite of the cry of hard times that this city is doing a large business.

He was engaged in a playful scuffle with another young man in his place of business and in attempting to prevent falling, Mr. Born received a wrench which broke his leg just below the knee. He was later carried to an Atlanta hospital for treatment.

Locked Him in Car.

Augusta, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—Charlie McKinley, a negro, was seen by the conductor of C. & W. C. freight train yesterday to break the seal on a car and enter it, while near Sardis, Mississippi. The conductor closed the door, imprisoned the negro and brought him to Augusta, where he was locked up. While he is held nominally for "beating his way" on a train, the federal authorities are expected to take charge of him. Charlie has a fresh bullet wound and is said to have been in a recent shooting scrape in Greenville, in which a negro woman was killed by another black.

Over 300 Atlantans have signified their intention of attending the luncheon tonight at 6 o'clock, in the assembly hall of the chamber of commerce, when Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture, will discuss the Southeastern Fair and the new era it will develop in Georgian agriculture.

In view of the absence from the city of President Mell R. Wilkinson, V. H. Kriegshaber will preside over the meeting following the address by Dr. Soule, Beaumont Davison, chairman of the Southeastern fair committee; Marvin Pendley, S. B. Turman and others will give short talks.

After showing stereopticon pictures of the noted Toronto and Dallas fairs, Dr. Soule will describe the remarkable rural conditions in these sections, which owes their development to them. Following suggestions for the main features of the Southeastern fair, the speaker will explain the many and worthy results which will follow as a direct result of its influence.

Upon his arrival in the city from Athens this morning, Dr. Soule was immediately met Lakewood in company with Beaumont Davison, Mayor Woodward, H. C. Hastings, Walter G. Cooper, Nym Hurt, chief of construction, and C. W. Kauffman, engineer of the chief of construction department, who has been drawing elaborate plans for the fair.

Penitentiary Walls Ring to Sound of Music by Fiddlers

The Old Fiddlers, holding their convention this week at the Auditorium, treated the inmates of the federal prison to an entertainment, Wednesday afternoon in the prison chapel.

The famous old songs of the rural districts were played and brought back fond remembrances to many a gray-haired prisoner whose younger days were spent around the country store.

A special car was chartered by the manager of the convention for both fiddlers and outside guests attending the performance at the prison. About 40 fiddlers were aboard the car, and during the half hour's ride back to town a singing and fiddling concert was held. Mitchell street, the fiddlers left the car and paraded up Whitehall and Peachtree streets.

SOLICITOR DORSEY AT FLORIDA SPRINGS TO REGAIN HEALTH

Run down by overwork on the Frank case and the recent prosecution of Dan S. Lehon, C. C. Tedder and Arthur Thurman in the noted subornation of perjury cases, Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey has been forced to seek health in Hampton Springs, Fla., for which he quietly left a day or so ago.

It is not definitely known when he will return. He is accompanied by Mrs. Dorsey, and will be back in time to take a part in the Frank case proceedings before the United States supreme court in Washington on February 23.

Days and nights of vigorous application were required of the solicitor in preparing his cases against the trio of accused men who were acquitted Saturday night. In connection with this he was also overburdened with the duties of the Southeastern fair and chairman and others will give short talks.

Dr. Soule will bring with him some excellent moving pictures of Georgia agricultural and animal husbandry scenes. Some very interesting pictures showing the preparing of beef in the country and its delivery to the Atlanta market by parcel post. In connection with these, Dr. Soule will speak of the present conditions and needs of agriculture in the state.

New Cigar Factory.

Thomasville, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—Plans for another cigar factory for Thomasville are being perfected and it is expected to be in operation before long. They have built up a most successful trade and put out a line of goods that find a ready market as fast as they can be produced, and command the best prices.

HEROES IN THE TRENCHES.

Paris, February 2.—These men in the trenches must keep incessant vigilance against sudden attacks by the enemy. The men who endure the artillery fire day and night oftentimes at an enemy that is never seen.

Medical science will save more lives this year than war will take, no matter how terribly murderous that war may be. Then, too, the food supply is very carefully looked after by the commissariat. The food supply of the soldiers must be wholesome. Living in the open air, the men are able to digest hard-tack with great relish. Napoleon said, "An army fights on its stomach." A man with a weak stomach is pretty sure to be a poor fighter. It is difficult—almost impossible—for anyone, man or woman, if digestion is poor, to succeed in business or society —or to enjoy life. In tablet or liquid form Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery helps weak stomachs to strong, healthy action—helps them to digest the food that makes the good, rich, red blood which nourishes the entire body.

This vegetable remedy, to a great extent, puts the liver into activity—oils the machinery of the human system so that those who spend their working hours at the desk, behind the counter, or in the home are rejuvenated into very good health.

It has brought relief to many thousands every year for nearly fifty years. It can relieve you and doubtless restore you to former health and strength. At least you owe it to yourself to give it a trial. Sold by medicine dealers or send 50 cents for box of tablets—Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel or Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

You can have Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser of 1108 pages in cloth binding, fully illustrated with colored plates, for 3 dimes or 30 cents.

Read all about yourself, your system, the physiology of life, sex problems, marriage relations, anatomy, hygiene exercise, disease and its prevention, simple home cures, etc.—(adv.)

THE WINDOW LOOK IN

Between Friends

If your friends were that in name only, they couldn't consider themselves very dependable, could they? But if you were altogether without them, you'd be mighty lonely, wouldn't you? Or better to have 'em, EVEN IF THEY'RE NOT POSITIVE, than not to have 'em at all, isn't it?

Imagine yourself for a moment not just one individual but a number of individuals in one composite character—a corporation, in short. WE'RE ONE. We're made up of stockholders, bondholders, officers, employees. IMAGINE YOURSELF IN OUR SHOES.

Suppose, now, you know as a public service corporation you've got lots of friends—not just parts of your composite character, like stockholders and workers, but many other people WHO SAY THEY'RE WITH YOU because you're square and conscientious.

WOULDN'T YOU LIKE TO HEAR THEM SAY A GOOD WORD FOR YOU every now and then? WOULDN'T IT MAKE YOU APPRECIATIVE TO SEE THEM STAND UP AND SPEAK RIGHT OUT IN MEETING when others are saying against you anything that pops to tongue?

YOU'D FEEL MIGHTY GRATEFUL FOR A LITTLE CO-OPERATION ONCE IN A WHILE. You'd be inspired to better work by finding that other folks realize you want their ACTIVE as well as their PASSIVE good will. YOU'D WORK THE HARDER TO DESERVE BOTH. Wouldn't you?

PLAN FOR PROTECTION OF NEUTRAL COMMERCE

President of Chamber Receives Letter on Subject From Buenos Aires.

President Wilkinson, of the chamber of commerce, has received from Buenos Aires by mail a communication from Dr. Emilio Frers, the president, and Tomas Amadeo, general secretary, which seeks to bring about governmental action in North and South America for the protection of the commerce of these neutral nations during the European war.

The object of the communication is stated in the following paragraphs:

"What we desire is that the American countries should unite in a union for the defense of their common interests and of their rights as neutrals, in the face of war, to their efforts a greater moral authority and efficacy.

"Our initiative before the government of the Argentine republic responds to this purpose. If its propositions are realized, that is to say, if it should be achieved that the European belligerents adhere closely to the principles established by the conventions and practices which rule in the relations between neutrals, the maritime commerce of the latter would be safeguarded against the serious risks to which it would be exposed if they should insist on ignoring the said principles.

"This fact might be characterized as a legitimate triumph of American peace policy.

"But in our opinion it is the right and the duty of America to demand even more. Laying aside the moral interests which unite American states to each other, it must be remembered that the commercial interchange between them has already assuming large proportions and that it is probable that it will greatly increase on account of the war in which so many European nations are engaged."

WOODROW WILSON URGES CO-OPERATION

portion in the general development is not a particularly handsome thing and is particularly intelligent thing.

"The advantage about a chamber of commerce of the United States is that there is only one way to boost the United States, and that is by seeing to it that the conditions under which business is done throughout the country are the best possible conditions. There cannot be any disposition about that. If you draw your sap and your vitality from all quarters, then the more sap and vitality there is in you the more there is in the commonwealth as a whole, and every time you lift at all you lift the whole level of manufacturing and mercantile enterprise.

"Moreover, the advantage of it is that you cannot boost the United States in that way without understanding the United States. You learn a great deal, agreed with a colleague of mine in the chamber the other day that we had never attended to our interests before as against compare with that we were now attending for the purpose of gaining a liberal education.

"Of course I learn a great many things that are not so. But the interesting thing about it is that things that are not so do not matter. If you hear enough of them you see there is no pattern whatever. It is a crazy quilt. Wide and true truth always matches piece for piece with other parts of the truth.

NO MAN CAN LIE CONSISTENTLY.

"No man can lie consistently, and he cannot lie about anything if he talks to you long. So that I would guarantee that if anybody talks long to you, you would get the truth.

"I had somewhat that experience about Mexico, and that was about the only way in which I learned anything that was so. There is a deposit in our imaginations and many special interests which have developed things as they wished me to believe them to be.

"Now, another thing that my body is to match all the facts of business throughout the country and see the vast and consistent pattern of them. That is the reason—and I think you are to be congratulated upon the fact—that you cannot do this thing without common counsel. I have myself, myself, been in there tonight, what relation you could bear to the governments of the United States and what relation the government could bear to you. There are two separate and sacred circles of confidence with which you will naturally come into most direct contact.

"The first is the government's power of inquiry—systematic and disinterested of inquiry—and the power of scientific assistance. You get an illustration of the latter, for example, in the department of agriculture. Has it occurred to you, I wonder, that we are just upon the eve of a time when our department of agriculture will be of infinite importance to the whole world?

"There is a shortage of food in the world just now. There is going to be more serious a few months from now than it is now. It is necessary that we should plant a great deal more. It is necessary that our land should yield more per acre than it has yielded. It is necessary that there should not be a plow or a spade idle in this country if the world is to be fed. The actual needs of our farmers must feed upon the scientific information to be derived from the state department of agriculture, and that is greatly increase in the event of a failure of the United States department of agriculture.

"The origin and use of that department is to inform men of the last developments in the discoveries of science, with regard to all the processes by which soils can be put to their proper uses and their fertility made the greatest possible.

"Similarly with the bureau of standards. It is ready to supply those things by which you can test forms, you help state bases for all the scientific processes of business.

JUST BEGINNING TO AID COMMERCE.

"The government of the United States is very properly a great instrumentality of inquiry and information. One thing we are just beginning to do that we ought to have begun to do long ago, ought long ago to have had our bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, ought long ago to have sent the best eyes of the government out in the world where the opportunities and openings of American commerce and American industries are to be found. Men who were not sent out as the partisan agents of any one commercial industries in the United States, but who were eyes for the whole community.

"But there are other ways of using the government. One of the latest is the ways that have long been tried, though not always with conspicuous success or fortunate results, to use the government of the United States by influencing the markets. It has been a very active industry, but it has not always been managed in the interest of the whole people. It is very instructive and useful for the government of the United States to find out by means as you are ready to supply for getting a consensus of opinion which proceeds from no particular quarter, and originates with no particular interest, because it originates in the very foundation of all right action in localities.

"Men on the inside of business know how business is conducted and they cannot complain if men on the outside make mistakes about business, if they do not come from the inside and give the kind of advice which is necessary. The trouble in the past—and I think the thing is changing very rapidly—has generally been that they came with all their bristles out. They came on the defensive. They came to get, not what they could accomplish, but what they could prevent. They did not come to guide, but they came to block, and that is of no use whatever to the general body politic.

"What has got to pervade us like a great motive power is that we can not and must not separate our interests from one another, but must pool our interests. A man who is trying to fight for his single hand is fighting against the community and not fighting with it.

NEW SPIRIT OF WAR IN PURSUIT OF PEACE.

"There are many dreadful things about war, as nobody needs to be told in this day of distress and of terror. But there is one thing about war which has a very splendid side, and that is the consciousness that a whole nation gets, that they must all act as a unit, for the union; and when peace is as handsome as war, there will be no war. When it is a means, merely, in pursuits of peace in the same spirit of self-sacrifice, and of common service of the community, with which, at any rate, the common soldier engages in war, then shall there be wars no more. You have moved the vanguard for the United States in the processes of this association just a little nearer that ideal. That is the consciousness that a whole nation gets, that they must all act as a unit, for the union; and when peace is as handsome as war, there will be no war. When it is a means, merely, in pursuits of peace in the same spirit of self-sacrifice, and of common service of the community, with which, at any rate, the common soldier engages in war, then shall there be wars no more. You have moved the vanguard for the United States in the processes of this association just a little nearer that ideal. That is the consciousness that I believe that.

"I have no definite matter about which I, for one, want your advice. Let me say, if I may say it without disrespect, that I do not think you are prepared to give it right away. You will have to take some rather extended inquiries before you are ready to give them. What I am thinking of is competition in foreign markets as being the merchants of different nations.

"I speak of the subject with a certain degree of hesitation because the thing farthest from my thought is taking advantage of nations now disabled from playing their full part in that competition, and seeking a sudden selfish advantage because they are for the timebeing disabled. Pray believe me, that we have no immediate all that thought from our minds and consider this matter as if we and the other nations of the world were in the normal circumstances of competence. That is the normal circumstance of commerce in which we are apparently at a disadvantage.

SCHOOL OF FINANCE AND FOREIGN TRADE.

"Our anti-trust laws apparently—I say apparently—because I am not a lawyer and my attorney general is present and I am not sure I am right—the anti-trust laws of the United States apparently make it illegal for merchants in the United States to enter into combinations for the purpose of strengthening themselves in foreign markets, because those laws of our farmers must feed upon the scientific information to be derived from the state department of agriculture, and that is greatly increase in the event of a failure of the United States department of agriculture.

"The origin and use of that department is to inform men of the last developments in the discoveries of science, with regard to all the processes by which soils can be put to their proper uses and their fertility made the greatest possible.

"Similarly with the bureau of standards. It is ready to supply those things by which you can test forms, you help state bases for all the scientific processes of business.

ELKIN DRUG CO.

The Treatment of Influenza or La Grippe

It is quite refreshing these days to read of a clearly defined treatment for influenza or La Grippe. In an article in the "Lancet-Clinic," Dr. James Bell, of New York City, says he is convinced that too much medication is both unnecessary and injurious.

"When called to a case of a grippe, the patient is usually seen when the fever is present, as the chill which occasionally ushers in the disease, has generally passed away. Dr. Bell then orders that the bowels be opened freely with salts, "Actiols" or citrate of magnesia. For the high fever, severe headache, pain and general soreness, one Anti-kamnia Tablet every three hours is quickly followed by complete relief. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headache, neuralgia and all pains.

PROMINENT MACON MAN DROWNS IN OCMULGEE

Albert H. Smith Loses Life While Trying to Launch New Ferryboat.

Macon, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—Albert H. Smith, a well-known liveryman of Macon, was drowned about 10 o'clock this morning at Holton, eight miles north of Macon, in the Ocmulgee river, while endeavoring to launch a newly constructed ferry boat. Three companions who were with Mr. Smith endeavored to save him, but the current was so strong at that particular point that he was whirled down the river at a rapid rate and was soon lost to sight.

Smith was an expert swimmer, and, under ordinary circumstances, would have had no difficulty in saving himself. A rowboat had been attached to the side of the ferryboat, and when the ferryboat began to sink in midstream, Smith jumped into the rowboat, which overturned and threw him into the water. The river is eight or nine feet deep at that particular point and the current sweeps all before it.

EVIDENCE IS SCORED BY COURT OF APPEALS

Case Is Disgraceful Wrangle Beween Two Women for a Ring, Says Opinion.

In a decision handed down on Wednesday by the court of appeals sustaining the judgment of the municipal court of Atlanta in a ball brought by Mrs. A. H. Newsborn to recover a diamond ring, valued at $250, from Lizzie Weitzer, the court takes a ringing crack at the lengthy nature of the briefs, the mass of irrelevant matter and the disgusting subject matter.

The opinion was written by Judge Broyles.

The brief in question was filed by Attorney Coy.

The opinion says:

"The provisions of the code were not followed and apparently there was no attempt to follow them. The brief filed instead we have a purported brief of the evidence, consisting of fifty-four typewritten pages, containing all of the testimony in extenso, and much irrelevant, immaterial and irrelevent matter. We confess, however, that we have searched in vain for any real brief of evidence with less reluctance, since a cursory examination is sufficient to show that this case is nothing but an unseemly and disgraceful wrangle between two women for the possession of a diamond ring, for reasons known only to them, on different occasions, by their sometime associates, counsel, friends and adjuncts.

"The decision comments somewhat sarcastically upon the nature of some of the evidence included in the brief and concludes as follows:

"From having to wade through such another unseeing mass, may the good Lord deliver us."

BOLTERS PILLORIED AS PARTY TRAITORS

he declared, "when I say that there are among us democrats who by courtesy, if not by law, still are permitted to occupy this side of the chamber. Like Brutus they are all most honorable men, but I say that if these men desecrate, unbeknown to us, conferred with the enemy and confided to them their plans.

"I am within my rights when I say that these democrats marched in here the other day and spread a complete and hostile surprise on all their colleagues on this side of the chamber. These democrats and the republicans were acting altogether in concert. I repudiate any sympathy with their traitorous coup they made. You did upset us. But we are in a fight for life and I don't know that we are going to get out of it. It was a fine, most artistic performance."

Senator Stone then read the records of the democratic caucus of last fall, including a resolution adopted in 1903 to the effect that members of the party should be bound to a measure when two-thirds voted to make it a party measure. This resolution always had good, he said, and was applied to the shipping bill.

Bitter Attack on Clarke.

"This is the first time the rule has been violated," Senator Stone said, "and Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, who is leading the fight, was a member of the conference that made this rule."

Senator Stone recalled that Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, now had been elected president pro tempore of the chamber, first because of seniority, which had decreed the shipping bill as a party measure.

"This is the first honor," Senator Stone declared. "It was not thrust upon him."

It was apparent a serious breach in the democratic ranks had come and there was confusion throughout the chamber.

Clark gratified the ambition of the senator from Arkansas by electing him to the office, which will be vacated by congress expires which elected him to preside over the senate with extreme grace, he is here leader of a performance intended to unhorse the democratic party and Senator Stone.

Senator Clarke then asked recognition, and he insisted he had not violated a caucus pledge.

"When this shipping bill was under consideration," said he, "I went into a meeting of democrats, warning them that during the heated days of debate I stated then that the democratic party had never been committed to a plan such as this, that no convention ever had indorsed a plan for the government to own a ship line at public expense.

"I received notice on the democrats then that I could not be deprived of my right to vote against this bill. I say that I am in this body I will not be deprived of my right to vote and act as I think to be right."

Senator Stone appealed to the senators to "deserve" Senator Clarke in return. Turning to Senator Camden, sitting near him, he said he directed his remarks particularly to the Kentucky senator.

"There have been doubting Thomases," he said, "who whispered that if the shipping bill became law it would be the vested interests and the masses of the people, the senator would be satisfied."

Senator Camden demanded to know who those doubting Thomases were. Senator Stone refused to say.

Stone Defends President Wilson.

Senator Stone then entered upon a defense of President Wilson and arraigned the critics of the president's shipping day speech at Indianapolis, saying in part:

"I repeat Woodrow Wilson is the president of the whole people; that is so, for this reason, if no other, that the people of this country could have but one president. In due form he was elected and inaugurated as the chief executive; and also in due form he was chosen as the titular head and leader of his party—the captain of the democratic team. The immediate significance of these latter statements is that the democratic party has been intrusted by the people with the power and duty of making and executing laws and of establishing and administering public policies.

"To do that successfully we democrats must maintain a cohesive organization and, as far as possible, pull together in concert; in other words, we must do team work. The president, by the choice of the people, is the head of the team. Leadership does not mean dictation, for dictation spells disaster.

"In regard Mr. Wilson as a great president and without a wise and able party leader. I do not assert or for a moment imagine that he is infallible; that he makes no mistakes. But believing, as I do, with all my heart, that he is striving unselfishly and nobly to accomplish a great work solely for the good of his country and the American people, I shall do whatever I can to strengthen his hands; at least I shall not because of minor differences sulk in my tent and weaken or embarrass by my lack of action. In other words, I mean to do team work with the president and with my democratic colleagues in the senate and house of representatives.

Prefers Wilson to Root & Co.

"Our friends across the aisle cannot shake me in the purpose by any clamor or threat, by fulsome praise or hostile sneer. Without any hesitation I avow that I prefer the leadership of Woodrow Wilson to that of Elihu Root, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jacob Gallinger, Theodore Burton or William Edgar Borah.

"The senator declared not many people would be fooled about the purpose which the "ridiculous performance" of the opponents of the shipping bill would serve.

"Overwhelmed by facts and beaten in argument, the opponents of the bill are now solemnly assured that 'the people are against the bill.' What people do these gentlemen speak for? Not for the planters who grow cotton for the mills; not for the farmers, feeders and millers who produce food and feed stuff for the miners who produce metals and not for the manufacturers who fabricate a thousand and one things used by the industrial and individual life; not for any people who have products to ship in the waiting markets of the world and who are suffering enormous losses for the want of ships and adequate trade facilities, and from exorbitant exactions. The people these senators speak for are those who control the executive committee of the New York Chamber of Commerce and other like organizations."

Of the men who he said formed the potential membership of these organizations responsible for the telegrams sent to congress attacking the bill, the senator named Mr. Root, Mr. Williams, H. Skinner, W. H. Porter, E. H. Outerbridge, P. A. S. Franklin and others prominent in great shipping companies.

Hoke Smith Issues Statement.

Senator Hoke Smith issued a statement tonight denying that he was opposed to the shipping bill.

"When the vice president ruled that the motion to recommit was out of order because a call had been made for the yeas and nays, I voted against sustaining the ruling of the chair," he said, "for the rules of the senate expressly provide that motion to recommit can be made at any time before final action in the senate upon a bill. I have co-operated with the democratic caucus in every way to support this measure, and I expect to continue to do so, and I earnestly desire the legislation passed."

ALABAMA LEGISLATURE FAVORS THE MEASURE.

Montgomery, Ala., February 3.—Alabama senators and representatives in congress have been requested to do all in their power to procure the immediate passage of the administration ship purchase bill now before the United States senate, after a resolution favor both houses of the assembly, adopted unanimously in both houses. It contains the sentence, "Whereas, is the cry of relief from want of transportation, and we need prompt action."

General Bibb Graves, chairman of the state democratic executive committee spoke, urging the passage of the resolution.

MEASURE INDORSED BY FARMERS.

Washington, February 3.—Indorsement of the ship purchase bill and other measures for relief was given to President Wilson today by representatives of the National grange, the National Farmers' union, the Farmers' alliance and the National Rural Credits league, assembled at the white house with Representative Small, of North Carolina.

The National Rural Credits' league has organized to urge action by congress. Directors elected include: W. M. Blankenship, of Virginia, and S. H. Hobbs, of North Carolina.

Not Due to Sex Alone

Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills is bound to help bad kidneys get better. There are so many thousands of women who can tell you this from experience.

The trouble interfered with my housework, in fact, I had little ambition to do anything when these attacks came on. Since I used two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I have been free from kidney complaint."

American League Adopts Schedule

SPORTS—EDITED BY DICK JEMISON

AMERICAN LEAGUE OPENS APRIL 14

Conflicting Days Reduced to Four—Two Holidays on Sunday—Closing Date October 7.

New York, February 3.—For five hours today Ban Johnson, president and the baseball club owners of the American league were in executive session here at the league's annual schedule meeting. At the close of the meeting the only affirmative action announced was the adoption of the 1915 playing schedule, which was made public.

While no session was in progress, President Barrow and several International league owners conferred, but none of them was admitted to the American league meeting. The minor league was expected to take some definite action today in reference to the removal of the draft rule from the Class AA league situation, Johnson's secretary announced this had been discussed and it was unanimously agreed to leave the question in Johnson's hands and that he probably would take it up within a few days. No change was made in the player list of twenty-five now in force in the American league, although at the December meeting of the National league that body reduced the number from twenty-five to twenty-one players.

Although there were rumors that some American league clubs would offer players to the New York Americans to add to the playing strength of the Yankees, no mention was made of such intention, according to the statements of club representatives present. Colonel Jacob Ruppert, jr., and Captain T. L. Huston, who recently purchased the Yankees, were elected members of the league. The new owners were introduced formally to their brother leaguers and each, in short speech, promised to do everything money could do to gather the strongest players available.

All the clubs were represented at today's meeting. Most of the club owners left for their homes tonight.

The American league will open its 1915 season on Wednesday, April 14, with Chicago at St. Louis, Cleveland at Detroit, New York at Washington and Boston at Philadelphia, according to the schedule announced today. The club provides for three games by each club, as usual, and the season will end October 7, with Boston at New York, though the other teams will have wound up their quota before that date.

Since May 30 and July 4 fall this year on Sunday, the playing double-headers are appointed for the following: Monday, May 31, St. Louis plays at Cleveland, Detroit at Chicago, New York at Washington and Boston at Philadelphia. The July 5 doubleheaders find Chicago at St. Louis, Cleveland at Detroit, Philadelphia at New York and Washington at Boston. The Labor day games will find the league Chicago, St. Louis at Detroit, Washington at Philadelphia and New York at Boston, St. Louis getting the Labor holiday at Boston.

As was the case last year, the conflicts have been reduced to four, so far as the National league is concerned, and again the first is at Chicago, on Sundays. Chicago leads in Sunday at home, with 14, and is tied with the four eastern clubs, with 13 Saturdays at home.

PAT MURPHY GOES TO PORTLAND CLUB

Thomasville, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—Herbert "Pat" Murphy, former star catcher of the Georgia State league and member of the Thomasville team, this was his last year to Philadelphia, has been recently traded to the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league, and will play with that club on the Pacific coast.

Murphy's wife, who is from Thomasville, has been spending the winter here, but will report this month for practice, the team opening training shortly at Tucson, Ariz. The Portland club is in Class AA league and on account of the Panama-Pacific exposition a big season is expected.

Murphy played last year with the Jersey City club, having been farmed to them by the Phillies.

THREE FIERCE GAMES PLAYED AT Y. M. C. A.

Winnebagoes, Apaches and Ottawas Win From Mohawks, Comanches and Cherokees.

Three of the hottest basketball games ever staged locally were pulled off at the local Y. M. C. A. last night, and the large audience which crowded the gallery were treated to some rare and excellent playing. The games resulted in victories for the Ottawas over the Cherokees, the Apaches over the Comanches and the Winnebagoes over the Mohawks, the first by one of the closest games was a brilliant affair, and in no case did the ultimate winners have an easy time taking the struggle.

OTTAWAS 12, CHEROKEES 9.

The first game of the evening resulted in a win for the Ottawas over the Cherokees by the close count of 12 to 9. The Ottawas, who are second in the league standing, had their hands full beating the lowly Cherokees, and narrowly escaped with the game.

In the first half the Ottawas played great ball, and when the half ended had the score 19 to 1 in their favor, holding the Cherokees to a single foul goal and not allowing them a single field goal.

However, when the second half started things were almost exactly reversed, and the Ottawas were only allowed one field goal during this entire period, while the Cherokees made three field goals, a count which gave points from free attempts after fouls. The Ottawas played like veritable fiends this half, and for a time it looked as if they would win the game, but the lead was too great, and the first half was more than enough to win.

The work of Sloan, Anderson and Hubert starred for the Cherokees, while Ellis, Fred and Sullivan, Frank and S. Warner were the features of the winners' playing.

The line-up:

Cherokees (9).	Pos.	Ottawas (12).
Wetherford	R. F.	S. Warner
Sloan (4)	L. F.	Smith (2).
		Edmondson
Anderson (3)	C.	Sullivan (2)
Hubert	R. G.	Frank (6)
Fuller	L. G.	D. Warner (2).

Summary: Time of halves, 12 minutes. Referee, Scofield. Umpire, Keller. Field goals, Ottawas 6, Cherokees 3. Foul goals, Sloan 2, Anderson 1.

APACHES WIN OVER COMANCHES.

The Apache team, captained by Herbert Elrod, in the first game of the season last night when they defeated the Mohawks by the count of 21 to 8, in every department, except the shooting of foul goals, the Apaches outplayed their opponents, each team work and passing was the main feature of the game.

The score at the end of the first period was 6 to 3 in favor of the ultimate winners, the teams played each of a defensive game during this period, their forwards having difficulty in shooting baskets from the field.

However, in the second half, the Apaches changed their batter on the offensive, and the Comanches had the better of the argument, getting 7 points to their opponents' 5.

The playing of Roy Govan, Frank Elrod and Elrod, Bird was the features of the Apaches' playing, while the work of Bostick, St. Louis getting and Anderson starred for the Comanches.

The line-up:

Apaches (21).	Pos.	Comanches (8).
Elrod	R. F.	Schelpert
Bostick, Floyd (3)	L. F.	Grier
		Mitchell
Govan (4). Aldred (4).	C.	Grier
Dugger, Govan	R. G.	Anderson (2)
Jones (2)	L. G.	Hall

Summary: Time of halves, 12 minutes. Referee, Keller. Umpire, Scofield. Field goals, Apaches 6, Comanches 2. Foul goals, Floyd 1, Grice 4.

WINNEBAGOES WIN FOURTH VICTORY.

One more game was added to the Winnebagoes' string of consecutive wins last night when they defeated Brisch's Mohawk team by the count of 27 to 17, a score not indicative of the score, and except for some great playing in the second half were lucky to get away with the long end of the score. The game, which was easily the best of the night's play, was a hard fought contested battle, and except for a little unnecessary roughness, was nicely officiated by Referee Scofield.

By winning this game the Winnebagoes have a perfect record, and as the only team with one more game to play it looks as if they will win the pennant with their record unbroken.

During the first half both teams played an even game. The Mohawks scored first and the latter made the circle swayed from one side to the other until at the end of the first period the score was standing 10 all, the Winnebagoes making their points from long field goals, and a couple of fouls, while the Mohawks made four field goals, also one foul, and had a point awarded them by the referee.

The second half opened with both teams playing strong. The Mohawks scored first, but then the league leaders by some beautiful passing, mainly due to the good shooting proclivities of one Owen Slate, forced Totten, Priest and Jarvis starred. Jarvis, at guard, played especially good ball.

The line-up:

Winnebagoes (21).	Pos.	Mohawks (*14).
Graves (4)	R. F.	Abrahamson (6)
H. Jones (2), ...	L. F.	Priest (6)
H. Graves (1).
Slate (12)	C.	Wootten (1)
Villard	R. G.	Jarvis
G. Govan, Jones (2).	L. G.	Jarvis

*One point awarded to the Mohawks by the referee.

Summary: Time of halves, 12 minutes. Referees, Scofield and Kellar. Umpires, Keller and Scofield. Field goals, Winnebagoes 5, Mohawks 6. Foul goals, Slate 3, H. Graves 1, Wootten 1.

BASEBALL TO LIVEN UP IN AUGUSTA SOON

Augusta, Ga., February 3.—(Special.) Baseball matters are beginning to liven up here and a much better year is expected in 1915 than in last year. Preparations are being made for the Pittsburg Federal leagners, who will train here, and will soon be due.

Manager Dudley, of the local South Atlantic league team, reports that over 21 men under contract so far, from which he chooses his regulars. Some men include: Pitchers McManus, Watson, Harris, Tyler, Sikes, Winn, Heydenbloom and Stone, the latter three from last year's team; first base, Guess and O'Neill; second base, Ogren and Smith; third base, Hargrove and Perry; shortstop, Kelly of the 1914 team, and Chesham; outfielders, Burgess, Smith, Exell, Dunning and Timlin, the first two of last year's team; catchers, Dudley and Reese.

It is confidently expected that the financial end of the season's work will be much better as one of the chief ills of last year, when the organization had to start with a heavy handicap bequeathed by a former defunct club.

JOE ENGLE TO WORK OUT WITH CRACKERS

Pitcher Joe Engle, one of Clark Griffith's young hopefuls, will practice with the Crackers this spring. Engle has been promising enough but he always gets off to a bad start, and is usually pretty wild. Griffith believes that by working with the Crackers he can get plenty to do and get in condition fast.

Engle will stay here all during the spring training season, joining the Senators when they return to Washington for a few exhibition games just before the start of the American league season.

PENDER TO UMPIRE IN NEW YORK STATE

Bob Pender, who umpired in the South Atlantic league last season, according to advices from New Orleans, where he has been umpiring the winter league semi-pro games, is slated for the big league in the New York State league during the coming season.

Athens v. Riverside.

Athens, Ga., February 3.—The Riverside Military academy at Gainesville will send its basketball five to Athens to meet the fast Y. M. C. A. team. The Athens Y. M. C. A. five was recently the second beat in a contest with this team on their home court, and in the return engagement here Friday night there is to be high tension.

BIRMINGHAM QUINT HERE ON SATURDAY

The Birmingham Athletic Club basketball team will be the opponents of the Atlanta Athletic club in a return game here Saturday night.

The teams met in Birmingham two weeks ago and the local five, for the first time in the history of the meetings between the two athletic clubs, walked home with the victory on the Birmingham court.

With Captain Willingham Smith back in the game and their team work now going as it should, the local five is confident of making it two straights. But Birmingham has been going some basketball rapidly and they expect to make it much more interesting for the locals. Regardless of the score, it is going to be a hard-fought game, and a real dancing feature will be enjoyed after the game.

GEORGIA FIVE ON ROAD TRIP OF THREE GAMES

Athens, Ga., February 3.—(Special.) The University of Georgia basketball team left here tonight on a road trip of three games. They will play one game in Chattanooga and two in Nashville before returning home again. Thursday night the Chattanooga Tigers, the champions of Tennessee, will be met in Chattanooga. GRIFFITH CONFIRMS WALLIE SMITH SALE

Manager Bill Smith received a letter from Manager Clark Griffith, of the Washington Americans, yesterday confirming the announcement that Wallie Smith had been sold to the Minneapolis club of the American association.

Griffith announced that he did this to protect himself as he could not carry Wallie on the roll after a certain date. It is not known whether Minneapolis has signed Wallie or not, and it may be possible for the Crackers to yet secure him.

DEALERS IN WET GOODS ORDERED TO OBEY LAW

Augusta, Ga., February 3.—(Special.) Richmond county will be free from every form of intoxicant—except, of course, "ni bear"—after March 1, if the county commissioners have their way. At their meeting yesterday they voted unanimously, after a thorough discussion, to serve notice on the dealers in wet goods to get rid of their stocks of liquor before that time or take the consequences. One of the commissioners even believes that the Augusta city council will follow suit when they see how easy it is to keep the county dry, and from lawbreakers of this class. Others are not so sanguine as to the city council, however.

Petition Not Granted.

Milledgeville, Ga., February 3.—(Special.)—The board of commissioners of Baldwin county in executive session on yesterday, declined to grant the petition of citizens of the city and county who requested that the board follow the recommendation of the grand jury and make appropriation for the purpose of securing an expert for farm demonstration work. It was necessary to employ the farm expert was $700, of which the national government contributes $750, the remaining $750 being contributed by the county. The commissioners feel that the condition of the county's finances does not warrant the expending of the public funds for this work.

Attacked by Unknown Man.

Augusta, Ga., February 3.—(Special.) R. M. McGowan, a young white man, while walking in the paved section of Greene street with a young lady last night was attacked and assaulted from behind by a man who slashed him on the head with a knife. The assailant got away unmolested. McGowan claims to know of no reason for the assault, nor does he know who did the cutting, he says.

Augusta Will Observe Day.

Augusta, Ga., February 3.—(Special.) February 15 will be observed here by most of the churches as "Go-to-Sunday-School day," in accordance with the recommendations of the Georgia Sunday School association. Elaborate preparations are being made for a great attendance on that day.

New York, February 3.—Cotton was under heavy liquidation in early dealing from Wall street and western sources, with the close barely steady at a decline of 11 to 13 points. The market opened at an advance of 2 to 4 points, on covering by buying orders, attracted by the strength of late yesterday and in sympathy with the steady showing of Liverpool. There appeared to be some demand from trade interests as well as scattered commission house buying after the call, but the market soon began to show weakness, which may have been promoted by reports that Russian and German buyers were withdrawing from the local markets, and of a slackening demand for cotton goods.

Trade interests continued to buy on the scale-down and there were slight rallies from time to time during the day, but each bulge seemed to meet with renewed selling, and the market's closing prices were practically the lowest of the day.

The unsettled and nervous ruling of the grain market may have been partly responsible for liquidation of cotton by houses with western connections, while reports that some Texas spinners selling here during the early trading, there appeared to be no offerings of consequence from southern sources. German advices, received in Washington, reported a declining market for cotton in Bremen, owing to the increased offerings, and there were reports of a further curtailment of consumption of cotton goods.

The buying by trade interests here was supposed to be for the purpose of covering hedges against sales of cotton to domestic mills and to arrive markets, as officially reported late in the afternoon, there was a decided market for cotton in Bremen, owing to the increased offerings, and there were reports of a further curtailment of consumption of cotton goods.

The buying by trade interests here was supposed to be for the purpose of covering hedges against sales of cotton to domestic mills and to arrive markets, as officially reported late in the afternoon, there was a decided market with fair sales at a number of points.

Spot cotton, quiet; middling uplands, 8.60; sales, 500 bales.

No Weakness Shown.

New Orleans, February 3.—Liquidation was the order of the day here today against the price of cotton today, but it developed little weakness and closed at no time was any pronounced weakness displayed. At the lowest, the trading months were barely 10 points under yesterday's final prices and the close was at 8 to 13 points to 22 points. The market stood at the decline through the early morning hours for a short period around the opening, when the most active months were at 8.50 to 8.60 for March.

The steadiness of the market at the decline during the forenoon hours, on fresh-buying orders. This buying was stimulated by the strength of the Liverpool markets and the continued heavy export movement. Shipments this week promise to be the largest of any week this session, amounting to 75,000 bales, and it was predicted that they would go over 400,000 for the week.

Exporters said that a further rise in war risk rates had been announced from Liverpool and that the Liverpool factors, but shippers did not think it would interfere with the outward movement of the crop.

Wheat Market Demoralized at Start; Lost Heavily But Rallied Later

Drop of Over Eight Cents at One Time During Session—Closed at Loss of About Five Cents—Corn and Oats Also Down.

Chicago, February 3.—Fluctuations covering a range of 9 1-4 cents, demoralized wheat today and finally left prices unstrung at 4 3-8 to 5 3-4 under last night. Other net losses were: Corn, 2 1-4 to 2 3-8@2 1-2; oats, 1 7-8@2 to 2 1-8, and provisions, 5 to 20 cents.

In a selling panic at the outset, wheat fell 8 1-4 to 8 1-2c 3-4, and then shot up to $1.66, a new high record of the war season. Wild rumors of immediate peace and visions of lines in the dandelies and of peace moves were chiefly responsible for the collapse at the start. Stoppage of export demand caused a depression of the bulge. It being said that steamship companies were making expensive and difficult requirements on account of German submarine attacks.

Corn resisted selling pressure better than wheat, although rural offerings to arrive showed an increase. Gains followed the rally of wheat.

Pork developed considerable strength at one time, in sympathy with higher hog prices. Packers were free sellers, however.

WHAT CAUSED BREAK IN GERMAN COTTON PRICES

Washington, February 3.—The break in German cotton prices from 19¼ cents to 16½ cents during December, was caused by hamburger Gerard stated in a dispatch today, to arrival of cotton in Rotterdam, Bremen, ports of the port of Rotterdam. Slackening of demand from spinners on account of cotton offers, and consequent decline in prices and sale of captured cotton stocks from Lodz and Antwerp.

Cotton mills in Germany are running three-quarters capacity, and using 150,000 bales a month. Commercial Attache Thompson at Rotterdam reported. This amount is apparently provided by ships arriving and afloat," he added. "Cotton prices are declining. Shippers are cautioned against expecting a continuation of present high prices. They should go slow about chartering ships at the present inflated charges."

Coffee.

New York, February 3.—Coffee was unsettled today, with futures selling off under liquidation and some trade pressure, while it seemed to be inspired by a less favorable world's visible supply statement than expected, and continued heavy Brazilian receipts and further liberal clearances from Brazil. PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON MARKET

New York, February 3.—(Special)—Although higher, cables from Liverpool influenced an advance here at the opening today, the local market shortly after, with considerable liquidation, principally for western and local interests, which forced prices down about 10 points from their highest. At one time during the morning local spot firms steadied the market by their buying, but when this demand was pretty well filled, subsequent buying was not large enough to withstand selling, except at a concession price. From some of the southern ports a falling off in freight engagements would report before it were; there was no specific news of an important character. (J. V. BOND & Co.)

New York, February 3.—(Special.)—Both the American and European markets have been affected today by profit-taking on the advance. At the opening there were apparently a large number of Octobers for sale at 40 and this led to rather heavy bidding on the part of Wall Street bulls and southern hedges, with the idea that the markets would react before it would again advance. Probably the large exports and also the fact that Liverpool did not believe that they would obtain all the cotton they wanted, were contributing factors. Outside traders are somewhat influenced by the idea that a basis of permit prices for cotton would not be a large reduction in it acreage.—HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

Sugar.

New York, February 3.—Sugar futures firm and active; refined, quiet. To the spot situation, further unfavorable weather and consequent continued scarcity of cane, inspired fresh buying. The market by midday was 5 to 6 points net higher.

ATLANTA'S STRDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Both the realty and the building business are showing marked improvement over conditions existing at the opening of the year.

While building permits are still somewhat behind the figures for the corresponding period of last year, the improvement since the first of the year is very marked.

Likewise the volume of property transfers recorded is increasing.

These encouraging conditions are in the outlook upon the market maintained by the realty men.

RAILROADS GAINING, WILSON IS INFORMED

Chief of Lehigh Valley Tells President Business Conditions Steadily Improve.

Washington, February 3.—President Thomas, of the Lehigh Valley railroad, told President Wilson today business conditions showed an improvement and that the roads were gaining from an increase in traffic. They needed less regulation, he told the president, to better their condition.

"When I say that the railroad with which I am connected made 25,000 reports last year to the interstate commerce commission and different commissioners and boards in the three states through which it runs, you will see what I mean by the need for less regulation," Mr. Thomas said. "We need constructive legislation."

An amendment to the commodities clause of the Hepburn law introduced in the house by Representative Adamson, prohibiting railroads from owning articles in such business mentioned by Mr. Thomas to President Wilson as being one pending measure which would greatly hurt some roads. The measure was recommended by Attorney General Gregory.

Mr. Thomas said his road and several others had plans for extensions and improvements, but were waiting to get money. The increased freight rates granted by the interstate commerce commission had helped conditions somewhat, he said, but other assistance from federal and state governments was needed.

AT THE THEATERS

"The Man From Home."

(At the Atlanta.)

This afternoon is second 24-cent matinee of the week will be given at the Atlanta. "The Man From Home" is the bill, and the great play is being given in a manner which is altogether satisfactory and pleasing. The Baldwin-Melville players are seen to excellent advantage in it and there are adding hundreds of friends by their excellent work. Next week the company will play "The Rosary" matinee and night on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Another big bill starts at the house Friday and Saturday. Ladies will be free on Monday matinee and night when accompanied by someone with a paid seat. The matinees will be at 25 cents. Seats for "The Rosary" are now on sale and the free seats for ladies may be had at this time.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

An excellent bill of vaudeville is being offered at the Forsyth this week and the attendance has been all that the management could hope for. Britt Wood's harp playing is being warmly applauded at every performance. "The Beauties," the big Lasky act, has scored a great hit and is warmly applauded. Miss Florence Tempest does well in the role of "Our American Boy." Her dancing is exceedingly well done. If you want to hear good music and see a remarkably quick change watch the Exposition Four. Next week Bessie Wynn is the headliner.

"The Coveted Heritage."

(At the Grand.)

"The Coveted Heritage," which attracted crowded houses to the Grand Wednesday night, will be shown again this afternoon and evening. It is a sensational photoplay in which are a number of spectacular incidents of a "hair-raising" variety; one of the revolver around the great "trunk mystery" that portrays a young girl, packed securely in a trunk, being shipped about the country as "baggage." The drama gives a good insight into life in the gipsy camp and, pictorially, is one of the best presentations of its sort shown here in a long time. There are two other special films as "extra added attractions" at the Grand.

SCHOOL TEACHER SHOT IN PUBLIC ROAD FIGHT

Professor Yates Killed in Fight Resulting From Flogging of Pupils.

Valdosta, Ga., February 3.—(Special.) In a fight at Clear Pond, Hamilton county, Florida, last night, Professor William Yates, in charge of the school at that place, was shot and killed by Claude Holtzendorff and his two sons.

The fight occurred on the highway between the school house and the home of the Holtzendorffs and is said to have been the result of a whipping of one of Holtzendorff's children. The flogging is said to have resulted in a hot fight in the school room, but the teacher got the best of it. When the children reported to their father what had occurred, the father is said to have taken his two older sons to meet Professor Yates, holding him up on the highway. The elder Holtzendorff entered the boys to whip him, it is said, but in the fight which ensued the teacher again got the best of it, and the father joined in the melee.

The teacher, who had expected trouble, had armed himself and shot the made with a rifle, shooting Claude and Wilbur Holtzendorff, the elder son, then shot the teacher, it is claimed, inflicting a wound which caused his death an hour later.

The killing caused a tremendous sensation and quick feeling in the community. Mr. Yates came from West Florida and was a young school teacher of high character, the son of a prominent turpentine operator. Wilbur Holtzendorff was landed in jail at Jasper, Fla., but the elder Holtzendorff is too badly wounded to be carried to jail. He is under guard at his home.

The scene of the fight is just across the line of this county.

Jack and Bob Say:

"Everything seems to be jumping up in price except tailoring," said Jack yesterday as he picked out a new showing of fabrics for the windows.

"They're even threatening a bread famine on account of the wheat market. That's one reason why our one-price ($35) suit-idea has caught on so well. We are making new customers every day among men who never before thought it possible to be suited at thirty-five."
